Americans In Cuba Flee On Advice Of U. S. Consuls

WAR THREATS INTENSIFIED DURING DAY

Government Troops Take to Field Against Three Separate Revolutions
COMMUNISTS ACTIVE
Strikes in Oriente Province Increase Danger to Martin Government

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Americans in Cuban trouble centers are fleeing on advice of United States consuls to ports protected by destroyers, Secretary of State Hull said today. Hull added that conditions around Antilla were growing more dangerous hourly.

Hull indicated that, except in extreme emergencies, naval ships would not land bluejackets or marines. He said that Americans realized they were in danger and should exercise discretion and flee to the shelter of ships rather than depending on rescue by landing parties.

CIVIL WAR THREATS INTENSIFIED TODAY

HAVANA, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Threat of civil war was intensified today as government troops took the field against three separate forces of revolutionists.

Communist activities at the eastern end of the island, strikes at Santiago, and sugar strikes of Communist character throughout Oriente province, increased the danger to the Grau Martin government.

Though none of the three active revolts was of major proportions, there was a two-fold threat of grave trouble—first that the revolts would be the signal for others, secondly that the men in the field might be joined by other dissatisfied groups.

Col. Fulencio Batista, ex-ergerent leader of the revolt that put President Ramon Grau San Martin in office, was in the revolutionary area in the provinces of Santa Clara and Camaguey.

Government troops claimed early today that they had surrounded the revolting force of Juan Blas Hernandez, called the Cuban Sandino, in the Moron area of Camaguey province.

A fight was expected today, because it was believed that Blas Hernandez, an untiring revolutionist, would not surrender peacefully, a government report said. An unconfirmed report said there was a minor engagement earlier at Tamarindo.

There were reports that some of the enlisted men and students who staged the revolt that put Grau in power, had joined Blas Hernandez.

Troops were sent to Sancti Spiritus, in Santa Clara province, to quell an uprising under Abelardo Corona and Manuel Nunez. They were estimated to have a minimum of 50 men.

A force of undetermined strength revolted at La Sierra, in the district bordering the provinces of Santa Clara and Camaguey. They were led by a man named Gallego, so far unidentified by the government.

So serious was the situation at Santiago, capital of the easternmost province of Oriente, that Lieut. Col. Mendez, military chief of the district, left for Havana to consult President Grau.

Though news has been meager, the strike situation in Oriente province has been serious for weeks, and the situation threatened to be-

2 MORE STATES JOIN UP WITH REPEAL GROUP

Idaho and New Mexico Vote Tuesday Bringing Total to 31 States

(By the United Press)
IDAHO AND New Mexico joined the repeal parade today, putting the wet cause within five states of final success. They were the 30th and 31st successive states to approve the 21st (repeal) amendment. The approval of 36 states is needed before the 21st amendment supercedes the 18th in the constitution.

New Mexico voted approximately three to one to repeal the 18th amendment and the bone dry amendment to the state constitution. Precincts uncommitted were in small, isolated communities and were expected to have little effect on the final vote. The vote of 415 out of 785 precincts showed:

For repeal, 46,091.
Against repeal, 14,256.
Repeal led by 15,737 in Idaho, home state of Sen. William E. Borah, dry leader, in returns from all of the 44 counties. The vote:

For ratification and repeal, 51,981; against ratification and repeal, 36,224. Majority for ratification, 15,757.

National repeal leaders believed they would be assured of the ratification of 39 states, three more than they need November 7 when five states pass on the issue. Virginia votes October 3 and Florida, October 10. Repeal cannot become an actuality, however, until the last of the 36 wet states holds its formal ratification convention which will be December 5.

The states voting November 7 are: Pennsylvania, Ohio, North and South Carolina, Utah and Kentucky.

Thousands of world's fair visitors pressed close to the former president, who accompanied Mrs. Hoover on a tour of the huge fair grounds.

The party, which included Rufus Dawes, president of the exposition, and his brother, former Vice President Charles G. Dawes, was greeted by a 21-gun salute.

Thousands of visitors lined the route from the gate to the administration building where Mr. Hoover was accorded an official welcome.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Box office prices at movie theaters will not be increased by application of the motion picture code, in the opinion of Sol A. Rosenblatt, NRA deputy administrator. He pointed out today that wage increases were already in effect practically throughout the industry.

Rosenblatt said film production in Hollywood was now at its peak, and that he had been advised there were 11,000 extra placements by studios in the past three weeks.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(UP)—A secret Mexican divorce parted the marriage ties of Hoot Gibson and Sally Eilers almost a month ago, it was learned today.

The actress disclosed she had been granted a divorce by a Chihuahua court on August 28. She charged incompatibility.

The couple separated twice within the last year. A reconciliation was followed by new rumors of a pending divorce two months ago when Miss Eilers went to Europe. They were married June 29, 1930.

Gibson's name has been linked recently with that of June Galt, young San Francisco showgirl. Miss Eilers was his third wife.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's cold and fever has disappeared but he will remain for another day in his rooms at the White House.

The president was reported as "feeling fine" but Commander Ross McIntyre, his doctor, ordered that stay away from the executive offices for at least another day in order to make recovery complete.

LABOR HOLDING STRIKE THREAT OVER INDUSTRY

May Use Weapon to Compel Obedience to National Recovery Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The threat of strikes "to compel obedience to the National Recovery Act" was held over industry by organized labor today.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, charged "astounding evasions by great employers."

Some of them, he said, were "so hostile to the letter and spirit of the law that I am certain the administrator must take immediate and very drastic action."

"We have had to strike to compel obedience to the law," he added, "and we expect we shall have to do so again."

Green said he had complained to Administrator Hugh S. Johnson that 16 corporations, including E. I. DuPont de Nemours and two corporations reputedly controlled by former Secretary of Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and associates, had attempted to evade labor provisions of the law by forming company unions. He characterized these unions as "a fraud from start to finish."

The DuPont firm's plan for a "workers' council," Green charged, is "in no sense bona fide employee representation" and "at variance with the collective bargaining provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act."

Other firms having similar plans unsatisfactory to the A. F. of L. were listed by Green as follows: Aluminum Company of America; Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.; Remington-Rand, Inc.; Delco-Remy; RCA-Victor Co.; Kohler Co.; Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.; Sinclair Refining Co.; Grays Harbor Pulp and Paper Co.; Pharis Tire and Rubber Co.; Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co.; Lums and Sessions Co.; Frigidair Corp.; Market Street Railway Co. of San Francisco, and the Louisville Gas and Electric Co.

Chase Mellen, Jr., Koenig's opponent for the Republican county chairmanship claimed victory on the basis of fragmentary returns from all districts. The Mellon forces claimed at least 1,700 seats on the county committee of 2,944 and possibly 500 additional. A total of 1,493 seats are necessary for a majority. Koenig's headquarters, with returns less complete, claimed 1074 seats to 594 for Mellon.

The most severe blow to Tammany was defeat of John N. Harman, Brooklyn publisher for comptroller, Frank J. Priol, deputy comptroller, who was ignored by Curry, ran up a vote of 236,367 against 150,969 for Harman.

Mayor John P. O'Brien polled a majority of more than 2 to 1 over three opponents combined, but the size of the anti-organization vote, approximately 127,743 was regarded as a strong protest.

SOUTHLAND PRESENTS SOLID FRONT IN BATTLE TO KEEP FLEET IN SOUTHERN WATERS

JOINING A GENERAL movement in Southern California to present a solid front against San Francisco in the battle to keep the fleet in southern waters and to secure a naval base that adequately will care for the ships of the United States navy, the Orange County Coast association last night, at the Social hall in San Clemente, adopted unanimously a resolution offering its help and naming a committee to gather data to be used in presenting the matter to Congress. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, efforts are being made to transfer the fleet to other waters and away from Southern California, and

"Whereas, the conditions surrounding the location of the fleet in Southern California waters are without equal on the Pacific coast, therefore be it

"Resolved, that this association offer its help and co-operation in every way in the effort to keep the fleet in the South, and be it further

"Resolved, that a special committee be appointed to prepare the necessary data to be used in this

TAMMANY HALL FIRST SUIT IS GIVEN SETBACK BROUGHT UNDER IN N. Y. BALLOT NRA IN STATE

Revolt Against Republican Leadership of 20 Years Grows With Returns

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Revolt against Tammany, hall today in returns from the New York City primary election in which the forces of Tammany Boss John F. Curry suffered a serious setback.

The Republican leadership of Samuel S. Koenig also appeared to be at the end after a 22-year reign.

As a result of the election, the stock of fusionists soared and hope of electing Fiorello H. LaGuardia as the first anti-Tammany mayor in 20 years was greatly strengthened.

Supervisors Unanimously Pass Motion

Adoption of Ordinance Follows Issuing of Retraining Order

THROUGH ACTION of the county board of supervisors late yesterday afternoon, Orange county residents were protected from the planned invasion of tango game operators.

Earlier in the day a temporary injunction had been granted by Judge H. G. Ames to the operators of a tango game, which it was proposed would be opened on the Santa Ana-Anaheim highway, to prevent the sheriff and district attorney from interfering with the opening and operation of the game.

These officials previously had prevented opening of the game and had declared they would not permit its operation.

The supervisors immediately stepped into the breach and unanimously adopted as an emergency measure, effective at once, an ordinance specifically banning tango and like games in unincorporated areas of the county.

The ordinance adopted by the supervisors is similar to the one now in force in Los Angeles county. Legality of the ordinance already has been tested and upheld in the Los Angeles county superior court.

In granting the temporary injunction Judge Ames based his decision on Section 330 of the Penal Code which is the state gambling law. He pointed out that tango, because it is not specifically named in the state law is not prohibited. He intimated in his decision however, that while the game is not prohibited by the state, city and county ordinances could be enforced.

Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure issued the temporary injunction on a complaint that the cannery violated its peach-canning quota of 77,000 cases.

It was the first suit brought by the NRA in a California court. Arguments against making the injunction permanent will be heard next Monday.

The complaint asked closing of the cannery, which employs 600 workers, levying a $5 fine for each ton packed above the firm's allotment, and collection of an unpaid assessment of $250 on each ton packed for the association surplus pool.

H. H. McPike, United States district attorney, and James Morris Fly, special assistant to United States Attorney Cummings, brought the action in the name of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

McPike and Fly consulted Prof. Thurman Arnold of Yale University, member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust," before filing the complaint.

They also conferred with D. M. MacLean, San Francisco attorney and nominal head of the Calistan company.

MRS. ANNIE BESANT CALLED BY DEATH

MADRAS, India, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Annie Besant, who for years had worked in the interest of the depressed classes of India, died today at Adyar.

Mrs. Besant was approaching her 87th birthday. She was an author and a lecturer on religious, philosophical and scientific subjects and had an international reputation.

As president of the Theosophical society she was sponsor of the young Hindu Krishnamurti, hailed by some of her followers as a new Messiah. She was in a sense the religious leader of 150,000 Theosophists.

So deep was her absorption in India's welfare that she died convinced she was coming back in a Hindu body to "continue to work for the building up of a greater India."

MEDAL IN COMMEMORATION OF HUEY LONG'S WASHROOM BATTLE PLACED IN MUSEUM

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The American Numismatic society today became the repository of a golden medal struck to commemorate the battle of the Sands Point washroom and the black-eyed retreat of Senator Huey P. (Kingfish) Long therefrom.

The emblem, a heraldic device bearing a fish's caput, knocked dizzy by a fist rampart and displaying a closed eye, sable, was entrusted to the society by Owen P. White, founder of the movement to honor the senator's still unidentified assailant.

It was designed by George D. Zayas, noted artist, and struck by the same concern that cast the Balbo medal presented by the United States government to the Italian flying hero.

Edward T. Newell, president of the Numismatic society, gravely accepted the trust and promised to cherish the token that will keep fresh in memory the tale that he said will continue to ring "down the corridors and washrooms of time."

"This is an historic occasion," said White, writer and southerner, in his presentation address. "Perhaps not in the annals of any country has there ever been a moment like it. Here in this magnificent museum, where medallions and plaques memorializing the great events of past centuries look down upon us, we are gathered today to do honor to the unknown hero who, on August 26th emerged so gloriously victorious from the sanguinary battle of Sands Point."

WALLACE GIVES F. D. R.'S VIEWS ON INFLATION

Secretary of Agriculture Speaks Before Grain Dealers' Meeting

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, in a carefully considered address which had been read and approved by President Roosevelt, today gave the nation the administration's views on growing demands for inflation and price fixing.

The secretary, speaking before the Grain Dealers' association here, declared "inflation is not a cure-all," and that attempts to fix prices without control of production "were in dangerous and 'doomed to failure'."

"Waving of hands," Wallace said, "will not suffice to dissipate real economic problems."

"There is danger," he warned, "that optimism, price-fixing and inflation will all of them tend to increase, rather than reduce, the lack of balance resulting from our creditor position, our high tariffs, our surplus acres, and our excess stocks of fundamental goods."

"It is time for the people to begin to think in terms of a long time supply and demand situation which spreads over the years instead of over the days."

No Money Now
"There is no money in it for them right now, but there will be satisfaction in it for their children and grandchildren."

The cabinet officer conceded the possibility that if the purchasing power of farm products does not improve during the next three months, "the price fixers and inflationists will have great power in congress this coming winter, and there will be passed legislation which will make the agricultural adjustment act seem extraordinarily conservative."

But, he said, "I think we will have decidedly higher agricultural prices within a few months, perhaps even within a few weeks, if some of our plans mature properly."

"It would be easy to say that never in history has there been such a rapid improvement in any

ROOSEVELT NOT TO FIGHT NAVY PLANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt has no intention of stopping or delaying the administration's new naval building program despite uneasiness by other powers, the White House said today.

At the same time it was explained that no representation or suggestions have been received by the president from foreign nations indicating a wish to have the program curtailed pending developments at the Geneva disarmament conference.

The president was represented as feeling that contracts for the ships have been let and that there never was any question of the program being halted.

WAR THREAT IN CUBA GROWING MORE INTENSE

Printers Strike
Today newspapermen and printers of Santiago went on strike demanding higher wages and better working conditions.

Troops last night suppressed a communist demonstration at Santiago, and a captain, 100 lieutenants and a sergeant of the army were arrested on suspicion of fomenting a revolution. Rolando Socia, communist leader, was arrested and sent to Havana.

The entire eastern half of the island, and a portion of the center, comprised a danger area in which any sort of trouble might develop. American destroyers were scattered about the coast towns, watching for signs of trouble that would threaten Americans. In the Moron area, where Blas Hernandez was in revolt, there has been a general strike for weeks.

Glau clung to his office despite united opposition of political leaders and the threat that civil war might be precipitated. From his standpoint, there were indications of support from working men and the students who helped put him in office. Demonstrations in his favor were organized in many towns.

The largest one was in Havana last night. Railwaymen and students by thousands cheered speakers who praised him and condemned his opponents.

A grave indication from the American standpoint was the apparent determination of many Cubans to keep an internal fight a private one. A group of railwaymen marched to Agramonte barracks at Camaguey and offered their services to fight American marines if they landed on Cuban soil.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 20. (To the Editor of The Register.) Mr. Hoover meets reporter, but "won't discuss national topics." The rest of us discuss 'em morning, night and noon, and I don't suppose there ever was a time when anybody knew as little about what they were talking about as they do today. Actual knowledge of the future was never lower, but hope was never higher. Confidence will beat predictions any time.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MacLean contended that inasmuch as his product was raised in California, and intended for a California market, not being shipped interstate, his pack was not subject to federal limitation.

The Calistan company was allotted a peach pack of 77,000 cases. It was charged with having packed more than 150,000 cases.

The Calistan company, the complaint charged, continued to pack night and day, and on holidays, in excess of its allotment. Such action amounted to "unfair profiteering at the expense of 95 per cent of the ciling peach packers who are living up strictly to their agreement," the action charged.

The government asked access to the Calistan company's books, allegedly denied.

RETAIL TRADES CODE IS MADE PUBLIC TODAY

the age of 16 except that children of 14 and 15 could be employed three hours a day for six days a week or for one day of not more than 8 hours per day.

The code would prohibit transactions in prison made goods except that present contracts would not be disturbed. The code carries a provision for relief for retailers who would be subjected to undue hardship by strict application of the code and provided for modification where necessary to avoid pinching individual store owners.

Uniform Schedule
When the code becomes effective retail stores shall elect to operate upon one of the following schedules of store hours and hours of labor:

"Group A. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business less than 56 hours but not less than 48 hours per week, unless its store hours were less than 52 hours prior to June 1, 1933, in which case such establishment shall not reduce its store hours; no employee of these establishments shall work more than 40 hours per week, nor more than six days per day.

"Group B. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business 56 hours or more per week but less than 68 hours per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than 44 hours per week, nor more than six days per day.

"Group C. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business 68 hours or more per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than 48 hours per week, nor more than 10 hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

"No employee shall work for two or more establishments, a greater number of hours, in the aggregate, than he would be permitted to work for that one of such establishments which operates upon the lowest schedule of working hours.

"No employee not included in the foregoing paragraph, and not specifically excepted hereinafter, shall work more than 40 hours per week, nor more than eight hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

Wage Schedule
The proposed code contains the following basic schedules of wages:

"On and after the effective date of this code, the minimum weekly rates of wages which shall be paid for a work week as specified in Article V shall be as follows:

"(A) Within cities of over 500,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $14.50 per week for a 40-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $15 per week for a 44-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $15 per week for a 48-hour work week.

"(B) Within cities of from 100,000 to 500,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $13 per week for a 40-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $13.50 per week for a 44-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $14 per week for a 48-hour work week.

"(C) Within cities of from 25,000 to 100,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $12 per week for a 40-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $12.50 per week for a 44-hour work week, or less than at the rate of $13 per week for a 48-hour work week.

"(D) Within cities, towns, villages from 2,500 to 25,000 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than 20 per cent, provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $11.00 per week.

week and provided further that no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $10.00 per week.

(E) Within towns, villages, and other places with less than 2,500 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than 20 per cent provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $10.00 per week.

48 Hour Basis
"The minimum wages of professional persons, outside salesmen, outside collectors, watchmen, and store detectives shall be upon the basis of a 48 hour employee work week. The minimum wages of maintenance and outside service employees shall be upon the basis of the basic employee work week upon which the establishment by which they are employed has elected to operate.

"In the south, all minimum wages specified in the foregoing sections may be at the rate of $1.00 less per week."

The section on limitations to price increases follows:

"No retailer shall increase the price of any merchandise sold after the effective date of this code over the price existing June 1, 1933, by more than is made necessary for the amount of increases in production, operating, replacement, and/or invoice costs of merchandise, and/or by taxes or other costs resulting from action taken pursuant to the National Industrial Recovery act and/or the Agricultural Adjustment act since June 1, 1933, and in setting such price increases retailers shall give full weight to probable increases in sales volume. It is provided, however, that if any price on June 1, 1933, was a distress price, an equitable adjustment may be made."

The stop-loss provision:
Price Cutting
In order to check predatory price cutting and minimize retail operating losses resulting therefrom, and in order to assure that the retailer shall be at least partially compensated for the service he renders the consumer, on and after the effective date of this code no retailer shall offer for sale, sell, exchange, or give away any merchandise, below a minimum price which shall be the wholesale delivered price as hereinafter defined with the addition of a charge of 10 per cent.

"Wholesale delivered price" as used herein means the lowest gross billing price, as of any date within 30 days prior to the date of resale, made to any retailer in the given market area, less only such discounts as are extended to all retailers and plus delivery costs paid by the retailer.

Exceptions:
"Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding section, any retailer may sell at less than the prices specified above, merchandise sold at a bona fide clearance, if advertised, marked and sold as such; highly perishable merchandise, or actually damaged merchandise clearly advertised, marked and sold as such; bona fide discontinued lines of merchandise clearly advertised, marked and sold as such; merchandise sold upon the complete, final liquidation of any business; merchandise sold in quantity on contract, not for resale and not for redistribution to individuals; and merchandise sold or donated for charitable purposes or unemployment relief agencies."

The trade practices provision:
"All retailers shall comply with the following trade practices:

"Section 1—Advertising and selling methods:
(a) No retailer shall use advertising, whether printed, radio or display or of any other nature, which is inaccurate in any material particular or misrepresents merchandise (including its use, trade-mark, grade, quality, quantity, size, origin, material, content, preparation or curative or therapeutic effect) or credit terms, values, policies or services; and no retailer shall use advertising and/or selling methods which tend to deceive or mislead the customer."

(b) No retailer shall use advertising which refers inaccurately in any material particular to any competitor or his merchandise, prices, values, credit terms, policies or services.

(c) No retailer shall use advertising which lays claim to a policy or continuing practice of generally underselling competitors.

(d) No retailer shall secretly give anything of value to the employee or agent of a customer for the purpose of influencing a sale, or in furtherance of a sale render a bill or statement of account to the employee, agent or customer which is inaccurate in any material particular."

(e) No retailer shall use advertising which refers inaccurately in any material particular to any competitor or his merchandise, prices, values, credit terms, policies or services.

(f) No retailer shall use advertising which lays claim to a policy or continuing practice of generally underselling competitors.

FORMER SENATOR'S DAUGHTER PASSES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Dorothy Lenroot Bromberg, former assistant United States attorney and daughter of former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, died in Good Samaritan hospital last night after a 10-day illness from anemia.

Death came as her parents were speeding here from Washington by airplane. Stricken suddenly last week, she was removed to the hospital where her condition grew steadily worse.

Mrs. Bromberg was the wife of Robert Bromberg, former federal referee in bankruptcy here, and had resided in California some 20 years. She was the first woman to be appointed as an assistant U. S. attorney in the Southern California district. She resigned last May in favor of a private law practice.

Speed limits have been abolished on the rural highways of 22 states as a means of facilitating travel. Speed trap operations have diminished accordingly.

"That was indeed the really decisive battle of this century. It must be commemorated. It will be. Just as this beautiful medal, done in enduring gold, depicts the momentous advance in classic relief, even so will the bards and minstrels and poets of future ages recount the fascinating tale of how the long-suffering people of this happy land, haunted and defiled for many years by a maligner whose dimes and dollars have paid for the emblem, that the American Numismatic society enshrine it forever as a part of its permanent collection."

swinging the mighty fist of public opinion, perpetually blackens the eye of his picaresque majesty and forever and forever knocks the tinselled crown from his forehead. "That is all. It is a tale that, as it rings down the corridors of time, will carry its own lesson. And so, as I now hand this medal to you, Mr. Newell, I do so with the request coming not from me but from the American public whose dimes and dollars have paid for the emblem, that the American Numismatic society enshrine it forever as a part of its permanent collection."

Although the site at Anaheim Landing was not named specifically in the resolution, which was prepared by the men later named on the committee, its advantages were explained in some detail by Councilman John J. Barton of Long Beach, after Chairman Talbert of the marine affairs committee had explained that Commander Daniels, U. S. Navy, retired, who had prepared the data, was ill and could not be present as anticipated.

Councilman Barton spoke with the aid of a large map which showed how a large circular water course could be built on which the dry docks would be located. The ground is level, and an airplane field could be located near-by and all buildings and machinery erected necessary to the handling of the ships, and that be reached easily by the pipe and power lines. The ships would be within a few minutes of the open sea. Barton quoted Commander Daniels as saying that the location of the base at that point would save the navy $5,000,000 a year because of its conveniences.

The speaker warned that "where the base is, there the fleet will be." He explained that at the present time the light cruisers are put into dry dock at the Mary Island Navy yard in San Francisco Bay, and the ships must traverse the bay often covered by fog, and then go through the Golden Gate before reaching the sea. The dry docks for the battle ships are the Bremerton Navy yard in Puget Sound and the ships must negotiate the strait at San Juan Fuca before reaching deep water.

Fortify Islands
"In case of war," the councilman continued, "the fleets could be bottled up in San Francisco Bay and at Bremerton. If the base was established at Anaheim Landing, the islands off the coast could be fortified to prevent it. The proposed site is close to the oil fields, which are necessary for the operation of the fleet, and the first thing Japan would do would be to try to capture them. The fortifications at Fort MacArthur are obsolete at the present time, but the government could protect the oil fields by fortifying the islands."

The discussion was led by Lotus H. Loudon, who is chairman of the Economic Council of Southern California, which organization has been gathering data and is planning a reception to the naval affairs committee, which is due to arrive in San Diego about October 10.

TANGO GAME IN COUNTY BARRED BY BOARD ACT

value is to be given or awarded either directly or indirectly. It also prohibits operation of any game played by throwing, dropping or placing balls or markers of any sort into any receptacle, hole or indentation.

The ordinance sets forth that it is "the intent of the board of supervisors to prohibit by this ordinance all games, operations or transactions herein described, not prohibited by the provisions of any general law of this state, including all games, operations or transactions for profit, commonly known as Keno, Tango, Movie Tango, Bingo, Beano, Skill Ball, Fortune, Quintain, Fascination or Inspiration, and all games, operations or transactions similar thereto under whatever name they may be designated."

Under the ordinance it is not only unlawful to operate the game but it is unlawful to play or participate in it, either directly or indirectly. Violation of the new law is punishable by a fine of $500, six months in jail or both fine and imprisonment.

In adopting the measure as an emergency ordinance the supervisors declared that the need for immediate action is imperative because the board had been advised that a large number of persons or firms intend to open many establishments where the game is to be played within the next 30 days.

These games according to the emergency clause of the ordinance involve a high degree of chance and constitute gambling, making it possible for many people to lose large sums of money at the game. The clause also declares the games offer encouragement to "persons of tender years" to participate and lose large sums of money, as well as holding out a lure to addicts to lose sums they can ill afford.

The loss of such sums, the clause sets out, tends to deprive children and other dependents of the losers of the necessities of life, thereby undermining their health and lowering their resistance to disease.

It was also charged that the presence of such games attract many vicious, criminal and otherwise undesirable persons to the community and these undesirable constitute a serious menace to the life and limb of people in the communities. The ordinance was held necessary to the preservation of public health, peace and safety. The Santa Ana city council refused a permit for a tango game at its session Monday night.

CAMPAIGN TO BE DIRECTED BY W. J. TWAY

Resignation of William J. Tway as president of the Community Chest, his official appointment as director of the campaign this year and adoption of the chest budget for the year featured a meeting of the board of directors of the chest late yesterday in the Y. M. C. A.

The budget approved by the directors yesterday aggregates $333,500, as compared to an approved budget of $37,350 last year. Budget requests were slashed from $38,637.25 this year to $33,500 by the budget committee, composed of Chairman W. D. Ranney, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Fred Merker, W. K. Hillyard and Sam Hurwitz.

October 16 was set as the official opening day of the drive, but the advance gifts solicitations will start about October 2, according to campaign plans outlined by Tway.

Agency budgets were as follows, with the first figure showing the approved amount last year, the second requested amount this year and the third the approved amount this year:

Member Allowances
American Red Cross $1200, $1500, $1200; Boy Scouts of America $3000, $4995, $4500; Children's Home Society, $500, $1135, $800; Ruth Home $350, $750, $600; Salvation Army $6000, $7243, $5500; Veterans' Welfare, $400, $500, $500; Y. M. C. A. $12,145, $11,785, $10,800; Y. W. C. A. $6772, $6987, $6060; year around office expense $300, $350, $350; campaign expenses $1800, $1100, $1100 and shrinkage addition $2083, $1842, $1590.

The quota last year was $53,000 including $15,000 for unemployment relief and the five per cent shrinkage addition. This year the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana is not included in the beneficiary agencies of the chest.

In arriving at the budget figures, the committee report stated that three elements entered into the final determination:

Goals Attempted

1. An attempt to harmonize and equalize the requests of the agencies as against service rendered, actual operating revenue attainable and as to the extent of welfare work performed during the last year.

2. An effort to maintain character and welfare work on a restricted basis but of a scope sufficient to approach adequacy and provide continuance of essential program activities.

3. To judge as well as possible the yield of a fund appeal under existing economic conditions, and to arrive at a sum which Santa Anans are able to provide.

The budget as proposed was termed provisional, and should not weigh adversely against future budgets when there is an improved trend in business and prosperity, directors declared.

Following the acceptance of the resignation of Tway as president of the chest, Vice Chairman W. K. Hillyard, who presided, announced that he would appoint a committee in the near future to name a president. A committee composed of Fred Merker, Col. M. B. Wellington and Mrs. F. E. Coulter was appointed to investigate the applications of the Catholic Welfare Bureau, with a budget request of $2500, and the Girl Scouts, with a budget request of $300, for membership in the chest this year.

THREE INJURED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Three traffic accidents were reported to officers of the California Highway Patrol today, one of which happened last night in which a Talbert Japanese resident was injured while walking near Talbert. Another Monday near Seal Beach, in which two Santa Ana girls were injured, and a third in Santa Ana Monday with no one hurt.

K. Oyama, 62, Talbert, was struck at 8 p. m. yesterday on Talbert road near Bushard avenue and was given treatment for cuts and bruises this morning at the Orange County hospital. Official reports said that he was intoxicated and walked into the path of a car driven by Antonio Gonzales, 49, R. D. 3, Box 225, Santa Ana.

Excessive speed turning a corner was blamed when a car driven by Cipriano Martinez, 18, 606 North Daisy street, overturned at Main street and the Coast highway in Seal Beach Monday morning.

Miss Marie Mercado, 22, 1228 West First street and Miss Helen Segura, 18, 1836 West Second street, received cuts and bruises in the crash.

No one was hurt when cars driven by Daniel Santos, 621 South Van Ness street and Charles A. LaFlam, 321 North Ross street, collided at Ross and Pine streets. The La Flam machine turned over but was not badly damaged.

PREDICT MORE ACTIVITY AT HUNTINGTON BEACH OIL FIELD; THREE GUSHERS ROAR IN TODAY

Prediction that activities in the Huntington Beach town lot field will be resumed within a few days; bringing in of three big gushers this morning; and statement in Sacramento of Roland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, that the state's suit against tidelands draining will be pressed unless the oil operators submit a definite proposition for royalties, featured the Huntington Beach oil situation today.

Oil men were cheered today with announcement that one of the major companies has reversed its stand of last week and is again in the market for all the oil it can produce under the federal curtailment program. The company is paying 10 per cent cash and placing the balance in escrow pending the settlement of the state's tidelands suit filed last week in Santa Ana against the Termo company and others.

Hundreds of oil employees were thrown out of employment when the state filed its suit, due to the action of buying companies in refusing to take more oil pending settlement of the case, a hearing on which is set for Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock before Judge G. K. Scovel. The state is seeking an order to permit a survey of the No. 4 well, alleged to be producing from the tidelands.

According to reports, other major companies are expected to start taking oil within the next few days and oil men believe that the majority of the men thrown out of work will be back at work shortly.

Three Gushers
Three big wells roared in this morning. The Simaroe No. 2, owned by McVickers and Rood, came in for 5000 barrels of oil and 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The well is located on Twentieth street between Ocean and Walnut. Al Burket brought in a 2000-barrel well at Nineteenth and Walnut and the Beloit company's No. 1 well.

NRA MASS MEETING SCHEDULED FRIDAY $5760 MAILED TO WALNUT GROWERS

Scheduled as the first of a series of meetings in Orange county cities to acquaint the general public with the details of the National Recovery Act, a mass meeting will be held Friday night in the Frances Willard Junior high school, under the auspices of the Automotive Trades Association of Orange county.

Secretary Harry Riley said today that three prominent speakers would give talks on the various phases of the NRA program. The meeting will be open to the public without charge. Later meetings will be held in Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach.

Checks totaling $5760.94 were placed in the hands of members of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association today as distribution of the third payment on gulls was made, according to Plant Manager A. E. Confer.

The payment brings the total payments for gulls up to $29,092.14 for the gulls from last year's crop. The payments have equalled five cents a pound for gulls. Final payments on other grades have not yet been made.

Confer announced today that the plant on East Fourth street is now open to receive walnuts from this season's crop and will be open from 7 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

EMPLOYMENT OF AFFIDAVIT IN SCHOOL HEAD AT TIDELANDS CASE LAGUNA URGED AID TO STATE

By an overwhelming vote, citizens of Laguna Beach Tuesday night expressed to the board of trustees of the new high school district, their desire that a four-year course should be offered at once to the students of Laguna Beach by employing Miss Elba Johnson, head of La Escuela del Mar, as principal.

During the meeting, which was held at the school house and which, following the swearing in of the trustees by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, G. B. Dunham, president of the board, announced his resignation to take effect within a month. Dunham explained that he is opposed to the high school plan. Because of his many years of service there were many genuine expressions of regret at this action.

Dunham and the Rev. Raymond I. Brahm, pastor of the Community Presbyterian church, cast the only votes in opposition to the plan of starting the school at once and of employing Miss Johnson. Later the minister said he was willing to abide by the majority decision.

A. B. Marshall led the discussion for the establishment of the high school at this time. He was clerk of the school board for many years. In answer to a question, Superintendent Adkinson said that college credits are given to pupils of Miss Johnson's private school and said that the school head had documentary evidence to that effect from Pomona college. If the school is started, an average daily attendance of but 10 pupils will be required to assure the status of the high school district. If such a course is not offered within a year the district again will lapse. The district will receive $3300 of state funds and $30 per pupil in addition, for the first year.

DRIVER HURT AS CAR STRIKES POLE

Joseph Farnum of Beverly Hills was badly bruised and suffered severe cuts about his hands early this morning when he dropped asleep at the wheel and his car crashed into a cement light stand near Divet Mortuary in San Clemente. His car was nearly demolished in the accident, and after his injuries had been treated, he resumed his homeward journey from San Diego to Beverly Hills.

some day the state would legislate against "whipstocking" but that nothing could be done about the present wells.

Eastman is alleged to have offered to "drill a well as crooked as you want it," volunteering to "work down flat if you want them" and stating that he had practically done that already.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE A SHARPSHOOTER

THREE TIMES HIGH MAN on the U. S. International Dewar .22-calibre rifle team, and former U. S. small bore champion, Virgil Richard is professional shooter for Remington Arms Co., Inc. He always has to be a brilliant marksman—regardless of sun, wind, or rain. There is no question about his knowing the secret of healthy nerves!

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

VIRGIL RICHARD, in discussing smoking and shooting, says: "People often ask me if a professional sharpshooter can smoke as much as he wants. I've been enjoying cigarettes for years, without difficulty in keeping my nerves in shape for making record scores in tournament shooting events. That's because I have long been a Camel smoker. I have experimented with all the popular brands, and I find Camels are better for steady smoking. They're a much milder cigarette, and they never interfere with my nervous control, no matter how much I smoke."

Switch to Camels. You'll like the remarkable mildness... the fine, rich flavor of Camel's costlier tobaccos. You'll have satisfying proof that Camels do not interfere with healthy nerves.

FIVE ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF INTOXICATION

With Santa Ana police arresting four and the Orange county fruit patrol adding another, five persons were booked at the county jail last night for violation of the liquor laws.

Gustavia Duncan, 26, negro, 1965 West First street, was charged with possession of liquor when officers A. L. Steward and Joe Murillo found seven gallons and 10 pints of whiskey in her home at 9 p. m.

Romero Rodriguez, 23, 522 Fair-lawn street, was arrested for drunk driving at 9:30 p. m. when he was seen weaving down West Third street in his car. Officers C. E. Neer, Joe Murillo and A. L. Steward pursued him in a police car and were nearly wrecked when Rodriguez veered sharply as the cars came to a stop.

Louis Carazosa, Santa Ana, was arrested at Fourth and Lacy streets at 10 p. m. and booked at the county jail for drunkenness.

Arrested on July 3 for the same offense, George Sterling, 21, Indian from San Diego county, was booked at the jail again last night for drunkenness by Officers F. L. Grouard and R. S. Elliott. He was arrested at Fourth and Mortimer streets.

When Charles R. Brott, killed his motor and parked on the wrong side of the road in a dense fog, Deputy Sheriffs Steve Du-hart and Fred Swazey of the fruit patrol arrested him for drunkenness. He had stopped his car on North Tustin avenue about 12:15 a. m. today.

JUNIOR POLICE TO MEET HERE TONIGHT

Junior police activities for the school year will be discussed again tonight at 7:30 o'clock when members meet in the Santa Ana police court in the city hall.

Chief Harold McCusker announced today that another of the junior police skating parties for children will be held on Thursday, September 28, on West Santa Clara street. The street will be roped off and free skating enjoyed in the early evening.

Jaycee Engineers Plan Initiation

Among the numerous business matters discussed at last night's meeting of Santa Ana Junior college American Association of Engineers in the college science building was that of initiating new members. Meetings will be held on Wednesday evenings hereafter instead of Tuesday and the new constitution was read and approved. A program is to be arranged for freshmen and will be given within a few weeks. A prominent speaker will be secured for this affair.

Individual groups were organized and chairmen elected with Orel Hare, chairman of the mechanical division; Sam Tucker, chemical, geological and civil engineering; and John Harkness, electrical. Francis Hall, president, conducted the meeting. H. O. Russell, physics instructor, is advisor.

FIFI D'ORSAY IS PLANNING TO WED

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Vivacious Fifi D'Orsay admitted today she is contemplating matrimony, but her marriage to Maurice Hill, son of a wealthy Chicago manufacturer, may wait until Hill completes his medical education.

The dark-haired motion picture actress said she met Hill, a graduate of the University of Chicago recently.

"He is so terribly handsome," admitted Fifi, dimpling.

Then she revealed Hill once was chosen by College Humor as the handsomest college student in the Midwest.

"He wants to marry me right away," Fifi added. "I want him to be a real doctor first."

MRS. LOTTIE G. COX SERVICES FRIDAY

FULLERTON, Sept. 20.—Funeral services for Mrs. Lottie G. Cox, 57, of Brea, who died early yesterday morning at her home, are scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday, at the McAulay and Suters Funeral home here.

Mrs. Cox is survived by her husband, William L. Cox; a daughter, Mrs. Loletta Albright, of Indio; a son, Leonard M. Cox, of Indio, and several brothers and sisters, Miss Emma Potter, Miss Olive Potter and Charles Potter, of Long Beach; Miss Minnie Potter, of Pasadena, and Mrs. Helen Spence, of Indio.

WED AT PARSONAGE

FULLERTON, Sept. 20.—The Rev. E. Dow Hoffman last night read the wedding ceremony at the Methodist parsonage that united Miss Loyce O'Berry of Ontario, to Ronald H. Robards, of Alta Loma.

Mrs. Ed Miner, a twin sister of the bride, and Mr. Miner, of Ontario stood, with the young couple.

TO TURN BACK NEEDY HEADED FOR CALIFORNIA

That indigent tourists bound for California are to be turned back this fall, according to present plans, was the statement made by W. N. Cunningham, special agent of the Department of Labor, speaking before the Rotary club at Tuesday's meeting.

"Horace Greeley's advice, 'Go west, young man,' has been revised this year," said Cunningham. "Now we are saying, 'Go home, young man—old man—whoever it may be, and stay with your own folks in your own neighborhood, where you can be cared for.' The Department of Labor is making every effort to prevent the annual influx of wayfarers who go from state to state, picking up a living. We want them to stay in the region where they have citizenship, and where they can best be cared for."

Cunningham was one of half a dozen speakers on the program headed by Postmaster T. E. Stephenson, featuring the various local federal agents. Ben Tarver, referee in bankruptcy, Franklin Davis, inspector in charge of Immigration and Border Patrol, James G. Lytle, of Los Angeles, chief deputy of internal revenue, Fluke Smith, assistant postmaster, and Harold Wahlberg, county agent under the Department of Agriculture, were the other speakers.

Stephenson explained that six other agencies were not represented on the program, although their representatives operate locally. He stated that the federal payroll in Santa Ana amounts to about $175,000 a year, as indicating the importance of this post in the national service.

LAMSON INQUEST TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 20.—(UP)—David A. Lamson will have two opportunities to bolster his appeal from a first degree murder conviction.

At 1 p. m. Friday Coroner Amos Williams will open an inquest into the violent death of Mrs. Allene Thorpe Lamson. A superior court jury held Lamson beat her to death last May 30. Leniency was not recommended for the former Stanford Press sales manager, making a death sentence mandatory.

At 2 p. m. Friday Superior Judge R. R. Syer will hear arguments of Lamson's attorneys for a new trial. Yesterday Judge Syer granted a delay until Friday in sentencing Lamson. The jurist is expected to deny a new trial and pronounce the death sentence, forcing an appeal to a higher court.

Fullerton Group to Attend Church Meeting Thursday

FULLERTON, Sept. 20.—Many families of Fullerton Methodist church plan to attend the conference tomorrow at the Garden Grove church, where all Orange county churches unite in study and fellowship sessions.

The meeting opens with conference groups at 4 p. m., with Ralph A. Chaffee, of Garden Grove, chairman, and Dr. A. Ray Moore, Southern California treasurer, in charge of the finance and budget group.

COUNCIL AGAINST AUTO POLO NOW AT MUNICIPAL BOWL

After attending a demonstration of auto polo cars put on by Bunny Willey, who is seeking to use the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl this winter for the game, members of the city council decided yesterday afternoon that the new turf in the Bowl is not ready for polo, although it may be after several more weeks.

The softness of the new grass slowed down the polo car to such an extent that Willey could not turn it over, but he made sharp turns to show to what extent the cars would tear up the sod. Slight ruts were made by the wheels, but Willey declared that his cars would inflict no more damage than football players. In addition, he offered to post a guarantee of $250 to replace the turf in its original condition.

Willey appeared before the council Monday to get the date of September 29, but was turned down because the councilmen were uncertain about the turf. They declared there was no objection to the polo games, and that the revenue was badly needed, but they did not wish to endanger the possibility of having football games held in the Bowl by having the turf damaged.

CHANGE OF VENUE SOUGHT BY MOTHER

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Arguments on the change of venue plea offered in behalf of Mrs. Eva Anderson, accused of brutality in disciplining her 4-year-old foster son, Erwin, will be heard by Police Judge Will J. Carragher today.

Judge Carragher late yesterday denied the change of venue plea, only to agree to reconsider this morning.

Defense counsel for Mrs. Anderson offered 85 affidavits of Sacramento citizens attesting they believed she would be unable to get a fair trial here.

Mrs. Anderson was arrested last week when the boy was found allegedly badly bruised and his tongue swollen from pinching.

MORE LETTERS ARE RECEIVED BY BEBE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The handwriting of a mental incompetent who previously had been convicted of the same offense was seen today in a series of annoying notes recently received by Bebe Daniels, film actress.

Her husband, Ben Lyon, expressed himself as convinced the letters were written by Albert F. Holland, 36 year old war veteran, who thrice has escaped from asylum after being admitted on the complaint of the film actor. Holland's most recent escape was made last June from the Arizona state hospital at Phoenix.

The latest letter was postmarked Tulsa, Okla. Lyon said it was rambling and incoherent like others that Holland had written.

ATTEND TROJAN MEET

FULLERTON, Sept. 20.—The Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the Fullerton Methodist church, and Raymond P. Ferry of Luane drive, were Fullerton representatives at the meeting of the alumni of University of Southern California last night when the Trojan club entertained at a party in Santa Ana.

FATHER OF SANTA ANA WOMAN DIES

A telephone message from her former home, Perry, Iowa, today apprised Mrs. Charles Swanner, 2102 North Rose street, of the death this morning of her father, Charles L. Dana, following an illness of more than two years' duration. He was a member of a prominent Iowa pioneer family and had spent the greater part of his life on property which his father had purchased from the Indians who were its original owners.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dana, and by three daughters and two sons, all in Iowa with the exception of Mrs. Swanner of this city, and her brother, Jean Dana of Los Angeles. Mrs. Swanner and her brother visited their parents within the past few months and will not return to Iowa for their father's funeral services which will be held Friday.

FARM LEADER ASKS INFLATION AT ONCE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 20.—(UP)—John A. Simpson, president of the National Farmers' Union, today wrote President Roosevelt that the "American people are overwhelmingly disappointed with the program for recovery." He demanded immediate inflation to save the administration from "absolute failure."

Simpson's open letter to the president followed his attendance at 92 farmers union meetings in 18 states, he said. Simpson demanded that the president demonstrate silver "and open the markets of half the world now closed to us." He urged the president to "kick the international bankers out of the national capital." He said these two powers of the president "must be used and used quickly if the people and the government are to be saved from bankruptcy."

Jerusalem was surrendered to General Allenby on December 9, 1917, but he did not enter the city until two days later.

nation's affairs as in this nation's during the last six months." He said the total increase in industrial payrolls from the low point of March was about 65 per cent, and that the purchasing power of farm products was 20 per cent above March.

"Far more businesses are making money than during last March."

Peril Threatens

"But this improvement will come to a sad end if we are not prepared to meet the peril produced by the following forces:

"1. America is a creditor nation to the tune of one billion dollars annually, but as a nation, she has a debtor psychology."

"2. The American people, Democrats and Republicans alike, are still essentially high tariff in their attitude. Reciprocal tariff agreements may be negotiated but the increase in foreign purchasing power resulting thereby will not be sufficient to enable foreign countries to pay a satisfactory price for our surplus wheat and cotton unless the attitude of the American people and American congressmen changes very radically."

"3. The American people are disillusioned about lending money abroad and it will be difficult to float foreign loans in their present temper."

Foreign Debts

Stating that "most of us who are operating the new deal are essentially old-fashioned in our understanding of economic laws," Wallace warned that "a creditor nation, which insists on selling more abroad than it imports and which demands the payment of foreign debts to the last dollar while at the same time it shrieks for high tariffs, is due for a terrific disillusionment."

He declared few realized what effect the farm program was likely to have on prices after the first of the year.

"In the case of hogs, butter, cotton and tobacco, we have done or are doing such fundamental things relating to supply that within a few months the effects are bound to be apparent.

"Flowing under 10 million acres of cotton and the slaughter of five million little pigs would rightfully have been called insane in the pre-war world when the United States was a debtor nation. But in view of the fact that the United States is now a creditor nation with a high tariff, that she is trying to deal with nations with high tariffs, and that all of these nations with their barriers have succeeded in building up twice the normal stocks of fundamental raw materials, it would seem the part of wisdom for American farmers to stop adding to the world surplus."

"The farm prices which are improved this year are those for which reductions of supply are present or prospective."

NURSE MAY REVEAL MOTIVE FOR MURDER

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Sept. 20.—(UP)—The carefully hidden motive which caused Freida Wilhelm, 43-year-old nurse, to kill F. J. M. Grace, retired shipper, will be bared next week if final corroboration is obtained by her attorney, Stanford Smith, he said today.

Miss Welch was charged with first degree murder and the state will seek the death penalty. Prosecutors said premeditation was plainly revealed because she stalked Grace for more than a year before she killed him.

The motive will be "startlingly sensational" when it is revealed within a week, Smith said.

Santa Anans at P.-T. A. Conference

Several P.-T.A. workers from Santa Ana attended a conference of district leaders and others held in Anaheim high school yesterday when Mrs. G. E. Pomeroy, San Francisco, state chairman of the secondary schools in P.-T.A., outlined work for the year. The group from Santa Ana included Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, president of the city council P.-T.A., Mrs. Roy Beal, president of the junior college and high school P.-T.A., Mrs. Neil Belsel, Mrs. and Mrs. H. G. Nelson, Mrs. Iva Webber and Mrs. E. H. Thompson.

COMPLIANCE BOARD NAMED FOR SANTA ANA

Members of a Santa Ana NRA Compliance board, appointed at the request of federal NRA officials, to enforce provisions of the president's reemployment agreement and codes, were announced today by George A. Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce and commander of the Santa Ana area under the NRA program.

Raymer announced the appointment of Frank M. Witmer, to represent industrial employers, Ray McCarthy to represent retail business employees, H. B. Rapp to represent industrial employers, Herbert P. Rankin to represent retail trade employers, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson to represent consumers, Judge Frank C. Drumm as an attorney, and P. C. Dietler as chairman of the group.

This local committee will receive all complaints from employees or employers on alleged violations of the NRA program. Efforts will be made to settle all differences by arbitration. If this proves unsuccessful, the complaint will be referred to the Orange County NRA Adjustment board, headed by Ray Adkins, who will pass the matter on to state authorities if the county board is unable to settle the differences.

Chaney to Talk on Breakfast Program

Homer Chaney, of the trust department of the First National bank and former teacher of economics, will be the featured speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Breakfast club tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock in Ketter's cafe. It was announced today by B. J. Koster, program chairman.

C. F. "Skinny" Skirvin will be in charge of the program and will demonstrate the "Spirit of Youth," the club's motto, it was announced. A musical program also will be presented. Every member of the club was urged to be present.

"California—here they come!"

TWICE AS MANY PLYMOUTHS AS IN 1932!

No wonder our Pacific Coast Plant is busy! Plymouth is growing TWICE as fast as any other low-priced car!

IF YOU WANT to see some excitement—drop around to Plymouth's big new Pacific Coast plant in Los Angeles!

Here's industry by Californians... for Californians. Your demand for these new Plymouth cars is making steady work for hundreds upon hundreds of Californians.

In the first six months of 1932—Plymouth sold about one car out of seven sold in California by the three low-priced leaders. This year it's one out of every four!

Plymouth's sales increase over 1932 was practically two and a half times as much as that of its nearest competitor! In the first seven months, we sold 9,375 cars. In the same period last year our score was 4,158.

What's the reason? That's easy—it's the car! It has the power that Californians want. The smartness you insist on having. Hydraulic brakes that stop smoothly because they are always equalized. Safety-steel bodies. Floating Power engine mountings—to make your ride smooth and vibrationless!

We invite you to go "look at all three" low-priced cars. A lot of Californians have—and put their money down on Plymouth!

BOARD HIRES TWO; REJECTS BOWL FOOTBALL

Employment of two teachers to fill vacancies in the elementary schools was authorized last night by the board of education. Miss Mary Beebe of Anaheim was elected to replace Miss Marian Bruner who was transferred to the physical education department. The second teacher to be employed was not named last night. Miss Beebe was assigned to first grade work at the Roosevelt school.

The additional teacher will be employed for Lincoln school where Miss Paul, the principal, is teaching a class of 37 pupils. Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson recommended that one of the second year teachers released this year be re-employed.

The board also approved the recommendation of Principal D. K. Hammond of the high school that F. L. Carrier, a member of the faculty, be employed to manage the stage in the auditorium and instruct the class in charge of stage operations. This was authorized provided the expense does not exceed the $280 allowed for this purpose in the budget.

No Bowl Games
Permission to play at least one high school game at night in the Municipal Bowl was denied last night by the board. The denial was carried by a three to two vote with W. M. Burke and Dr. Margaret Baker favoring the night game and Rolla Hayes, M. B. Youel and George Wells opposing the plan.

Lynn H. Crawford, faculty adviser for athletics in the high school and W. W. Foote, head of the physical education department were present on behalf of a request filed by D. K. Hammond, principal of the school, asking that all home games be played at night.

Hammond had recommended that one game, the Alhambra game, be played in the Bowl at night as an experiment. This was suggested for approval in a motion presented by Burke and seconded by Dr. Baker but defeated.

when Wells, Hayes and Youel opposed the plan.
During the school board meeting officers of the High School P. T. A. called and informed the board that the organization had just adopted a resolution opposing night football. This was carried with only three votes favoring night games.

Institute Plans
Plans for a county institute to be held in the high school during October were discussed and it was recommended that the institute be held on a holiday to relieve the necessity of dismissing schools on that date. The institute will be for teachers in all schools of the county.

The board also approved the recommendation of Superintendent Henderson that shower baths be installed in the Delhi school. It was pointed out that this is the only Mexican school not so equipped for children who do not have bathing facilities at home. The cost of showers was estimated at approximately $500.

Henderson also informed the board that arrangements have been completed for home making courses at the high school. These courses will carry federal aid from the George-Reed Foundation, approximately $800 per unit. One unit, Henderson said, already has been set up.

DANA TRUESDELL CALLED BY DEATH
Dana Truesdell, 76, resident of Garden Grove, died at his home late yesterday. He had lived there for about 35 years.

He is survived by six foster children, Carl Truesdell, Garden Grove, Henry Rohrs, Long Beach, Otto Scherer, Los Angeles, and Ted Lewis.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Harrell and Brown Funeral home.

Picnics and Reunions
MINNESOTA
The next Minnesota picnic will be held in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, all day, Saturday, Sept. 23. Judge Marion C. Spicer, president, will be in charge of the day. There will be county registers and headquarters, silk souvenir badges, coffee and popular program of songs and addresses.

CLYDE, OHIO
Former residents of Clyde, O., are invited to the picnic and steak bake at Irvine park, Sunday, September 24. All who ever lived in Sandusky county are invited to the event. Coffee will be furnished by the committee.

COUNTY WATER ELECTION DATE SET OCTOBER 18

Election of directors for the Orange County Water district, officially set yesterday by the board of supervisors when they adopted a resolution setting the date for October 18.

The seven divisions in which the election will be held will be divided into 58 precincts under terms of the ordinance and each election board will consist of three members.

With the board of supervisors officially setting the date of the election for October 18, County Clerk J. M. Backs said today that candidates for seats on the district directorate may file their nomination petitions at any time. Petitions must be signed by only property owners. This property rule applies also to members of the election boards. Officials must own property within the precinct they will serve.

Backs said this morning that two petitions already are being circulated. William C. Wallop of Placentia is a candidate from the third district and George Bates of Anaheim has taken out a petition as candidate from the second district. Indications are that W. C. Mauerhan of Katella also may be a candidate.

LAWSON FUNERAL SET FOR FRIDAY
Mrs. Phoebe Amelia Lawson, a resident of Santa Ana for the past five years, passed away last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eric E. Anderson, 1213 South Van Ness street.

Mrs. Lawson lived in Elgin, Illinois, for many years before coming to California 27 years ago. Her late husband, Sylvester Lawson, a Civil War veteran, died in 1919.

Besides Mrs. Anderson she is survived by Mrs. W. S. Skinner, Inglewood, another daughter; two sons, Edwin Lawson of Elgin and Clarence Lawson of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Crabtree of Elgin and 11 grandchildren, including Mrs. F. K. Middleton, Santa Ana, and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the E. F. Lamp Funeral home, 415 East Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, with the Rev. Harry Egan Owens, pastor of the First Baptist church of Santa Ana, officiating. Interment will be made in Mountain View cemetery, Pasadena.

Supervisors Order Road Equipment, New Bridge Plans
Orange county will join with Los Angeles county in construction of a bridge over Coyote creek at Moody street, in the north end of the county, and the county road department yesterday was authorized by the supervisors to proceed with plans for bridge construction.

According to the present plan cost of the structure will be approximately $4000 which will be equally divided between Los Angeles and Orange counties.

The board also authorized purchase of a one and one-half ton truck for the road department, a model 35 tractor and an automobile. One of the department's old trucks will be turned in on the truck deal, a model 21 tractor will be traded and an old roadster will be turned in on the deal for purchase of the automobile.

Four federal prisoners were transferred from the county jail to a federal road camp in Tucson, Arizona, Monday. They were Theo Lacey, serving nine months for extortion; Lester J. Holliday, serving 14 months for violation of the banking laws; Robert Andrews, serving one year and one day for counterfeiting; and George Tome, sentenced to six months for violation of the narcotic laws.

D. J. Wallace, charged with drunk driving, was released from the county jail yesterday by Judge Kenneth Morrison without bail and will appear for a preliminary hearing at 2 p. m. on September 26.

Court Notes
Frank Nelson, 22, Long Beach chauffeur, sentenced to pay $50 or serve 25 days in the county jail for reckless driving, has been booked at the county jail by Chief of Police LaVerne Keller of Huntington Beach.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

ALIBI
Administration trouble - shooters are out along the feed line trying to find what's damming the flow of public works money into pockets and pay-envelopes.

Statements pour almost daily from Administrator Ickes' office pointing to the allotment of these and those millions to put men back to work.

For all that a private guess prepared for PWA concedes that not more than sixty thousand men are drawing real public works dollars today.

They hope to triple this number in a month. The alibi is that many states have laws requiring a thirty-day minimum for competition bid calls. This of course retards commencement of work on approved projects by just that much.

But even 150,000 men are only a drop from the unemployment bucket.

LOOSENING
It's safe to believe the Public Works Administration is going to loosen up on federal building projects.

As reported in this column Ickes and Budget Director Douglas classify all such proposed buildings into six categories ranging from those needed at once to those never to be needed. Money has been allotted for all the structures that came within Douglas's first three classifications. Word now leaks out of advisory board meetings that the Budget has "new information" and would like to revise classes 4, 5 and 6.

DREAMS
Piled on top of all his other troubles Administrator Ickes is forced to review what one of his aides calls "a century of failure of progress."

Certain localities are digging out of their cellars old proposals that died the death way back in the last century. These are being dusted off and blandly shipped to Washington for inclusion in the public works program. In all soberness the removal of mountains has been suggested. Together with other little shifts in topography.

A Delaware canal project first broached 107 years ago and turned down by "Hickory" Jackson has been brought up to date.

SALOONS
Democratic leaders aren't airing the situation for publication but they know they're up against a tough problem in carrying out one of their platform pledges.

This is the one which commits the Democratic Party to preventing a return of the saloon.

After repeal, control reverts to the states. Most of them undoubtedly will legislate specifically against the swinging door but if some of the big wet centers shouldn't Washington would have nothing to say about the matter.

ALFALFA BILL
The Administration had to step into a state political situation the other day.

Word came up from Oklahoma that Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray in person was distributing every cent of money the State got from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration. Senator Gore brought the word and was pretty hot about it.

The rub came because Murray was distributing this life-saving money by checks bearing the inscription "William Murray Relief Fund."

Alfalfa Bill hasn't said so yet but Gore has a hunch the Governor is going to try to cop off his seat in the U. S. Senate.

Making people think a candidate for office is distributing hundreds of thousands of dollars in relief from his own funds ought to help a lot.

Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins quickly advised Governor Bill to lay off that "William Murray Relief Fund" business.

BARGAINS
They do say in their unguarded moments around Washington that we are having a little trouble arranging to sell additional cotton to Soviet Russia.

The RCA is perfectly willing to loan money to some reputable firm that will in turn gamble on payment by the Soviet.

But now word has reached here the Russians figure we're trying to dump a surplus on them so they might as well hold out for bargain prices.

LONDON
Liquor control circles report that bootleggers are already transferring their activities to England.

Repeal will put them out of business here but conditions in Great Britain look sweet for them. Two-thirds of the cost of a bottle of whiskey in England is excise duty.

There is a market for cheap smuggled whiskey, and American bootleggers are already peddling their wares abroad. An American in London was recently offered a hundred cases at half the wholesale price, delivered by motor truck in London.

It's an odds on bet the bootleggers will do long penal servitude.

NOTES
They said the little fellow who wrote the "Raggy Ann" songs for children wouldn't come back, that he was through because of ill health.

Nevertheless Treasury Secretary William H. Woodin is back on the job as chipper as ever.

The sugar marketing agreement finally drawn up after so many weeks of haggling is predicated on one fundamental. That is maintenance of the price to the housewife at within a quarter-cent of its present cost.

Many close observers here will bet the United States sooner or later is going to have to intervene in Cuba.

They think it is just a question of the extent that intervention will take.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
BEER
New York's beer business has reached an important cross road.

The big question is whether the rough necks and gangsters are going to get the upper hand. They are trying hard enough. Ex-bootleg brewers can't get repeat orders on merit and strong arm stuff to improve sales records is increasing at an alarming rate.

The legitimate brewers are getting fed up. They are tired of being tainted by the reputations and methods of gangster competition. The slimy trail of dirty politics sticks right out. Prosecutions for sluggings and bombings get quietly squelched. Underworld protection of prohibition days is still on the job.

State and municipal authorities have been remarkably sluggish in taking action and the legitimate brewers' hands are tied because they can't get evidence that will stand up in court. But the first break came last week when a New York newspaper published the name of a beer which a racketeer salesman tried to put across on a man who was afterwards slugged.

It will be hard now for the authorities to resist pressure for a thorough investigation and possible revocation of license. One or two sharp lessons might make the boys behave. But so far State control has been pretty much of a flop.

The question is important nationally as well as locally. The dries are storing up ammunition from New York examples to prove that legalized beer is not curing the evils of prohibition. The problem must be solved or the repeal cause may find it hard to recover from an ugly black eye.

MUSCLE SHOALS
The inside dope here has it that the Tennessee Valley Authority is working out definite plans to blanket the country in a radius of 250 miles from Muscle Shoals with Federal power. RFC loans to municipalities to build distributing plants will be freely encouraged. Utility interests in the affected area are plenty bothered.

They talk a lot in private about unfair competition but they can't figure what to do about it.

Experienced utility men do say - although they may be a trifle prejudiced - that the idea of providing power to residential consumers at 3 cents a kilowatt hour is an economic absurdity. They claim that any municipality which tries it will go broke in the attempt and are caustic about the government's estimate of power costs. They admit that having no taxes to pay will give public owners a big break, but even so they insist that the T. V. A. is excessively optimistic.

CUBA
Disaffection in the Cuban army is reaching concert pitch. It may soon touch the point where the army will tell Mr. Grau San Martin to go hop in the Caribbean.

New Yorkers who know the island say the average Cuban private is no mental giant. Under the Machado regime he at least got paid regularly. Now he does not. The dismissed officers acted as paymasters and in his simple way the private connects them up with the money he used to get. So there's growing demand for the return of the officers. The officers know it, which is one reason they have been so obstinate. They see the balance of political power in their own hands and the prospect pleases.

The various Cuban factions are all aware of the necessity for army support and are all bidding for it on the quiet. The highest bidder will be the next ruler of Cuba but no one can stay in power unless he keeps the army fed and reasonably satisfied.

Foreign diplomats talk - and act - as if American recognition of Soviet Russia were a fait accompli. Japan for instance is putting out feelers for a commercial treaty with the Soviets.

Tokio is not terribly keen over the project but considers it necessary to offset the effects of the expected American gesture. One feature of the pact will be Russia's consent to receive part of the payment for the Chinese Eastern Railway in the form of Japanese industrial products.

A German business man who has had close relations with the Soviets reports the sabotage against the Soviet industrial program seems to be more serious than the outside world knows. Out of twelve huge machinery units which this man's firm shipped to Russia only four were installed and two of these were out of commission after a week. The eight remaining carloads "disappeared" without a trace en route.

HISTORY
"Jesus can not possibly have been a Jew. I don't have to take the trouble to prove that scientifically. It is so." Dr. Goebbels in his novel "Michael."

SIDELIGHTS
South America aims to get on our wine list when repeal becomes effective. They don't propose to let Europe get all the gravy.

Argentina even has wine pipe lines. The copper people are not as hopeful about Russian trade as they were. Russia has unearthed large copper deposits in the Ural Mountains.

RADIO MYSTERY FILM AT STATE
Speed, thrills and surprise climax are the distinguishing features of "The Phantom Broadcast," which opens tonight at Walker's State theater. Getting away at a lively start, this ultra modern drama of radio land keeps up its tempo straight through to a startling climax. Rich in comedy and romance, and based on a strong plot, it has every element that makes for good entertainment.

Interest in the story centers around Grant Murdock, radio sensation of the moment, whose success is based on fraud. Norman Wilder, hunchback accompanist, secretly does Murdock's singing for him.

Ralph Forbes, Vivienne Osborne, Paul Page, Gail Patrick, Guinn (Big Boy) Williams and Arnold Gray are the principals in this absorbing drama.

Women To Attend Home Department Regional Meeting

Members of the Orange County Home department today were making plans to attend the Home Department Regional Meeting in San Bernardino next Monday.

The meetings will start at 10 a. m. in the assembly room of the Congregational church at Ninth and E streets. The Home Department is the women's division of the Farm Bureau.

Mary Kokahr, of the extension work division at Washington, D. C., will be the speaker. She will discuss the agricultural adjustment act and explain how home demonstration work will aid the act.

A luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations should be made with Mrs. L. A. Bortz, chairman of the Orange county division, or to E. E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor at the courthouse annex, before Thursday.

Georgia, in 1770, passed a law making teaching slaves either to read or write an offense punishable by a fine of $500 for each offense.

Supervisors Order Road Equipment, New Bridge Plans

Orange county will join with Los Angeles county in construction of a bridge over Coyote creek at Moody street, in the north end of the county, and the county road department yesterday was authorized by the supervisors to proceed with plans for bridge construction.

According to the present plan cost of the structure will be approximately $4000 which will be equally divided between Los Angeles and Orange counties.

The board also authorized purchase of a one and one-half ton truck for the road department, a model 35 tractor and an automobile. One of the department's old trucks will be turned in on the truck deal, a model 21 tractor will be traded and an old roadster will be turned in on the deal for purchase of the automobile.

Court Notes

Frank Nelson, 22, Long Beach chauffeur, sentenced to pay $50 or serve 25 days in the county jail for reckless driving, has been booked at the county jail by Chief of Police LaVerne Keller of Huntington Beach.

Four federal prisoners were transferred from the county jail to a federal road camp in Tucson, Arizona, Monday. They were Theo Lacey, serving nine months for extortion; Lester J. Holliday, serving 14 months for violation of the banking laws; Robert Andrews, serving one year and one day for counterfeiting; and George Tome, sentenced to six months for violation of the narcotic laws.

D. J. Wallace, charged with drunk driving, was released from the county jail yesterday by Judge Kenneth Morrison without bail and will appear for a preliminary hearing at 2 p. m. on September 26.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

They ought to give Wesley Ramsey, Grand Rapids, Mich., batter, a crack at Ross' lightweight crown now that he has clinched it beyond dispute with a victory over Cannonier in Tony's backyard. . . . for Wesley holds a decision over the former crown wearer. . . . gained a few months before Ross lifted Tony's title in Chicago. . . . Baseball will get his big test as a pull next season. . . . with Babe Ruth retiring from the picture. . . . at least Right now the three big teams of the east look like Fordham, Pitt and Navy. . . . and don't be surprised if Rip Miller springs a lot of fast ones on the Army this year. . . . and that fellow Chung-Hoon, the Hawaiian, will pull some Oriental mysticisms with the ball before he finishes his last year in the Navy backfield.

SOME TIPS, FREE

After the dust, strychnine and heroin of the present racing season have cleared away, it more than likely will be discovered that the name of the best two-year-old is Red Wagon. . . . a gelding who, therefore, was not eligible for the Belmont Futurity.

JUST NERVOUS BOYS

This is going to be a long world series, six or seven games, and the performances of Jittery Joe Cronin and Breathless Bill Terry—who help their pitchers throw every ball—will make it seem longer than that.

WHY, HOW UNCANNY!

Going far out to the tip of a fragile limb, this operative wishes to predict that Washington State and the University of Southern California will play to a scoreless tie October 7 at Los Angeles. (Last year's score was U. S. C., 10; Washington State, 0.)

TOUGH FOR THE ARMY

Illinois will defeat the Army before 96,000 people at Cleveland, October 21, and a fellow named Frochauer will play an important and colorful part in that affair.

CR INTO YOUR LAP

The leading hitter of the world series will be William Clifton Bolton, a farm boy from North Carolina who has appeared in only about 20 games this year as a pinch hitter. . . . and if given a chance he will knock Mister Hubbell's screw ball right down "Lefty" O'Doul's throat.

THE STRONG MIND

Wesley Ferrell, the guy you remember as one of the greatest young pitchers ever to come to the majors, has looked more like Babe Herman than he has Ty Cobb in the outfield so far. . . . but he has set his mind on outfielding and he will be an outfielder. . . . because when that young man sets his mind on anything that mind of his stays put.

FAMILY SCANDAL

The Senators are just one big happy family. On the road, many of the boys cart their ball and chain along, and pay her way—at special rates. Thus they can dig up a quiet or a loud table of bridge most any night. The players drink all the beer they want—if they can keep in condition while doing it—play cards, beat heavily on the races, wear loud clothes, and talk loudly in hotel lobbies. All of which shows that Joe Cronin is not a manager of heavy hand, and that he's getting results without the well-known whip.

PASTEBORD HOUNDS

The first thing they call for on boarding a train is a card table and the pastebords. They play rummy all the way to their stop, quitting only for meals which, incidentally, are paid for by the club.

Only a few of the players don't indulge with the rest. Among them are Bob Burke, Ed Chapman, Moe Berg, Fred Schulte, Monte Weaver and Joe Cronin, who just sit and talk—mostly baseball.

The best gamblers of the bunch are Luke Sewell, Buddy Neyer, Goose Schornzka, Goslin and Earl Whitehill.

NIGHT OWLS

The game goes on until midnight snores are heard from the non-players, and the bunch generally wind up the game and turn into their berths. Cronin piles into a lower just the same as the rest of the boys. His job hasn't caused him to occupy a compartment yet.

Your Senators sleep until noon if they like. Then a lengthy menu is presented them and they can eat anything they want. All they have to do is to sign the check, and forget about it. Clark Griffith does the worrying about large appetites.

The ghost walks twice a month, and the players are paid according to the number of games in the season. If he's one of those fortunate and rare stars who pulls down fifteen grand a year, the Senator gets about $100 a day, on the basis of 154 games.

And that's mighty sweet sugar.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The news that some Big Ten gridgers were nearly starving, and that some coaches advocated the return of the training table in a conference, brings to mind a trip to Pitt's training camp outside of Windber, Pa., last year. . . . A crowd of more than 60 big bruisers ganged around groaning tables under a roof outside in the mountain air. . . . Potatoes, steak, bread pudding, celery, olives, toast, milk, coffee, soup, lettuce and lots of it, filled the empty mid-sections of the hungry boys. . . . and that training table seemed to agree with Jock Sutherland's lads. . . . for look how they went last year until they met Southern California.

LEVINSKY SHOWERED WITH FIGHT OFFERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The services of King Levinsky as prize-fighter today became very much in demand.

Jack Dempsey wired an offer of 20 per cent for Levinsky to meet Max Baer in an open air show at Los Angeles Nov. 20. The offer is under consideration by Pete Reilly, who has purchased part of the King's contract and who was in his corner for the Sharkey bout Monday night.

An offer of 15 per cent for Levinsky to meet Primo Carnera in the Mexico City bull-ring was turned down by the managers of both fighters.

New York promoters are bidding for Levinsky's services for the Christmas milk fund show. Madison Square Garden has offered to stage a return bout between Levinsky and Sharkey.

"I want Carnera," says Levinsky, "but if I can't get him I'll take any of 'em." Levinsky's end for the Sharkey bout was only $3250 as he was fighting on a small percentage. Sharkey got a $25,000 guarantee.

SAINT NIGHT GAMES VOTED OUT

WHITE, ORANGE HI COACH, SEES SAINT PRACTICE

With Coach Stewart White of Orange the most interested of a hundred or more vitalized spectators, Santa Ana had a preview of its high school football squad at Poly field yesterday.

Coach Bill Foote's Saints—the new edition—scrimmaged for more than an hour with the Woodrow Wilson Bruins of Long Beach, and White, whose Orange gridmen meet Santa Ana Friday afternoon in the season's formal opener, was here to personally scout the situation.

The Orangemen think they have an even chance of knocking off the Saints this year, and White is leaving no stones unturned in his effort to accomplish a feat no Orange team has done since 1924.

White's visit was not a surreptitious one, for he came with Coach Foote's knowledge and permission. But the Orange mentor from time to time was seen to jot down in a little notebook things probably having to do with Santa Ana's defense against Woodrow Wilson's running attack.

Most especially the old Howard Jones "outback play" which Santa Ana found most mystifying.

Despite its utter inability to cope with the formation which Mort Kaer employed to do most of his ground-gaining at S. C., Santa Ana had slightly the better of Wilson in a spirited workout. The Saints scored two touchdowns, Wilson one touchdown, and a safety. Both teams kicked one goal.

Foote used the following men in the following rotation:

Right guard—Dick DeSmet, Don Lentz, Don Evans.

Right tackle—Charles Roemer, Fred Towner, "Bud" Vardy.

Right end—Myron Newton, Fred Erdhaus, Fred Southworth.

Quarter—Waldo Smith, Bill Greene, Leroy Levens.

Right half—Paul Hales, Ray Clark.

Fullback—Art Stranske, Dick Crowl, Dick White.

Hales scored the first Santa Ana touchdown, wiggling through a nice hole over center and proceeding the rest of the way, about 25 yards, behind good interference.

Hales also figured in the second touchdown, passing about 25 yards to Newton who ran about the same distance after making the catch.

Woodrow Wilson blocked one of Stranske's kicks for its safety, the ball bounding back of the end zone. The Bruins' other score was the result of sustained drive of 80 yards against a second string lineup. Wilson used the outback play almost exclusively.

DeSmet and Shepard were pleasant surprises in Santa Ana's line while Hendrie looked best of the Saint backs.

Stranske was usually smothered before he had a chance to get started, his blockers falling him time and again.

The Saint centers both passed poorly, the tackling was uniformly poor and Quarterback Greene once made the cardinal error of trying to run back a punt from behind his own goal line, but for the most part the Saints' showing was encouraging. Foote's reserve strength is obviously lacking, however.

S. A. - Orange Game To Be Held Friday

Santa Ana's 1933 football season will be touched off with a double discharge Friday.

The Saints will play in the afternoon at Poly field, opposing Orange high school in the twenty-first annual struggle between these ancient non-conference rivals.

The junior college Dons pry the lid off their season at the Municipal Bowl Friday night, battling the University of Southern California Freshmen.

Santa Ana and Orange officials agreed to play at the Bowl Saturday night, but last night's action of the Santa Ana board of education in refusing the Saints permission to hold any of their games after dark definitely killed that idea. Their Friday afternoon skirmish will begin at 3 o'clock.

RIALTO SHADES TORRANCE, 2-1, IN 12 INNINGS

Rialto was one-up on Torrance today in the Southern California championship night baseball series, thanks to a dramatic 2-1 victory at Torrance last night in the opening game of the American-National league playoff that went 12 thrilling innings.

Neither side was able to make a run through 11 innings but in the first of the twelfth Rialto scored twice and in the last half Torrance rallied long enough to produce one.

With one away in the twelfth, Hughes singled and Norton dropped a single between Vonderhabe and Moon who did a you-first act on an easy chance. This "error of omission" proved disastrous to Torrance hopes. Shaddock fanned for the second out but McClain hit sharply to left, scoring both Hughes and Norton. Moon's throw-in hit Norton but Norton had it beat anyway.

Hal Forney opened Torrance's end of the round with a double. Leonard filed out. Paul Neva's single threw out trying for two bases on his blow, and his ambitious baserunning snapped Torrance's budding rally.

NEEDHAM, BIG CHAFFEY BACK, BECOMES DON

Encouraged by the enlistment of Ted Needham, 144-pounder transfer from Chaffey junior college, Coach Bill Cook today selected a variety of backfield combinations to represent Santa Ana's Dons at the Municipal Bowl Friday night.

Needham, regular fullback for Coach Hurt's '32 Panthers, runners-up to Riverside for the Eastern conference title, probably will be employed at the same backfield position for Santa Ana.

The Dons possessed strong material for the fullback post before Needham checked out a suit yesterday, but with the services of another fine candidate, Cook has arranged his backfield in a powerful combination, listed in the order they are likely to start against the Trobreds:

(1) Fred ("Porky") Bell, quarter; Harry McInteer and Wilburn Anderson, halfbacks; Harold Welty, fullback;

(2) Ray Hapes, quarter; Sam Tucker and Anderson, halfbacks; and Bell, fullback;

(3) Welty, quarter; Bell and Anderson, halfbacks; and Needham, fullback;

(4) Bill McDaniel, quarter; McIneer and Junior Hurley, halfbacks; Anderson, fullback.

Young Hapes, brother of Clarence ("Moose") Hapes, displayed all of his touted speed at safety yesterday, indicating that a knee injury received last week is not bothering him. The linemen did not open up many holes for him, but Hapes slipped through several times anyway.

Bob Campbell, transfer from Mercersburg academy in Pennsylvania, was back in suit after nursing a leg injury Monday.

The Don forwards lined up with Siavini and Gunther at end, Capt. Koral and Devine at tackle, Luks and Nowotny at guard, and Handy at center. Changes were made frequently, the major ones being Kroener, Perinich, Krueger, B. Stoddard and Rither, ends; Norton, Arundell, Sparks, and Boyle, tackles; Youel and Waer, guards; Hoar and Robertson, centers.

Bill Bouldin, sophomore back, has not been out for practice this week. He is reported to have gone on a short trip to Arizona. . . . Charles Bowden who gained many yards at quarterback for the Dons last fall, may join the Santa Ana squad within the next few days.

Jim Hall, ex-captain, has erased his name from the turnover roster. In company with Ellwood Lindley and Earl Homan, former Don athletes, Hall left recently for Utah, where he hopes to find work. He hurt his knee in drill several days ago and became discouraged. It was this same injury that kept him from competing in '32. . . . In order to test out new lights which have been installed this week, Coach Cook will take a handful of players to the Bowl tonight. He has agreed with U. S. C. coaches not to hold evening scrimmages, so Santa Ana's next regular workout will be conducted on East Poly field tomorrow afternoon.

Bill Bouldin, sophomore back, has not been out for practice this week. He is reported to have gone on a short trip to Arizona. . . . Charles Bowden who gained many yards at quarterback for the Dons last fall, may join the Santa Ana squad within the next few days.

Jim Hall, ex-captain, has erased his name from the turnover roster. In company with Ellwood Lindley and Earl Homan, former Don athletes, Hall left recently for Utah, where he hopes to find work. He hurt his knee in drill several days ago and became discouraged. It was this same injury that kept him from competing in '32. . . . In order to test out new lights which have been installed this week, Coach Cook will take a handful of players to the Bowl tonight. He has agreed with U. S. C. coaches not to hold evening scrimmages, so Santa Ana's next regular workout will be conducted on East Poly field tomorrow afternoon.

FARM CENTER MEMBERS TOLD OF BUREAU MEMBER CAMPAIGN; ONE - ACT PLAY IS PRESENTED

ORANGE, Sept. 20.—Talks on the topics of interest to ranchers of the community were given last night at the meeting of the West Orange Farm center in connection with a program presented under the direction of the women of the center.

John W. Crill, former president of the Orange County Farm bureau, spoke on the coming membership drive, emphasizing the advantages which accrue from organization, not only in farming circles but in industry and business as well.

Crill pointed out that the citrus stabilization program has been the nucleus of the national organization effected at Washington under the N. R. A. The speaker called attention to the work being done in the citrus department through Holmes Bishop. He also told of the plan for a conciliator to get debtors and creditors together in order to stop mortgage foreclosures.

Holmes Bishop spoke of the quarantine laws concerning fruit shipped from Florida, stating that an effort was being made to break down these precautionary measures. J. A. Smiley spoke on the NRA walnut code. Claude

SEEK 1000 PENNIES DAILY IN WELFARE BOARD DRIVE

ORANGE, Sept. 20.—One hundred fifty workers are expected to make a whirlwind drive for funds for the Orange Community Welfare board Monday, according to plans outlined at a meeting of the organization yesterday at the American Legion clubhouse.

The drive is to open at 9 a. m. and workers are to report at the Y. M. C. A. earlier in the morning when they will be assigned territory. The workers are to report the result of their work at the same place at 11 o'clock.

Alfred Higgins, president of the group, revealed a plan for raising funds by which 1000 persons of the community are to be asked to give a cent a day toward the relief of the destitute in the city. It was brought out at the meeting that while various relief projects have been of great material benefit in aiding those in need, a great need still exists. Samuel Hart heads the drive as head of the finance committee.

Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, told of the need existing in the city as he has personally observed it.

If the average person knew the real need here, there would be a rising tide of emotion which would result in immediate action, the pastor declared. Mrs. Robert B. Johnson, head of the Red Cross of the Orange district and recording secretary of the board, stated that last year 69,148 pounds of flour had been distributed from Orange and that in addition to this help, 3574 garments and 2155 yards of goods had been given away. She pointed out that flour would not be available this year and that it was expected that but few garments and yardage could be secured, making the need of local help more imperative.

Each of the 35 organizations affiliated with the board is to secure a number of workers proportional to their membership. It was decided.

CARD PARTY OF O. E. S. CIRCLE HELD OCT. 24

ORANGE, Sept. 20.—Setting October 24 as the date for a progressive card party, members of Scepter Social circle met Tuesday afternoon in Masonic hall. Mesdames Etta Chapman, J. F. Rowley, S. B. Edwards and Gwendolyn Thompson were named on the committee in charge of the affair, which is to climax with the awarding of prizes and the serving of refreshments in the hall.

A covered dish luncheon preceded yesterday's business session, over which Mrs. Gertrude Case, president, presided. Plans were made to hold the next meeting of the circle on October 31, in the hall, and to invite husbands of members to the November meeting, the date of which will be set later.

Card games were enjoyed during

PLAN HEATER MEETINGS FOR GROWERS SOON

Methods of improving the efficiency of old orchard heaters, as well as new developments in improved heaters will be shown at two demonstrations scheduled for Orange county growers by the Agricultural Extension service, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Substantial progress has been made toward solution of the orchard heater smoke problem in Southern California, according to the farm advisor.

Investigations conducted by the University of California showed that many smoky heaters could be greatly improved by relatively simple and inexpensive changes, during the last two years at least 250,000 heaters have been improved.

Last winter, the agricultural extension service made over 500 field tests of the smokeiness of heaters. These tests showed that the change made in heaters have been effective in reducing the smoke output. A good example of this is the change of old equipment in the Citrus Experiment station orchards. Tests conducted there last winter indicated that the smokeiness of the worst types of old equipment was reduced as much as 90 per cent. Tests of new stacks introduced during the last two years by various manufacturers have shown that practically all of these stacks are effective if properly attached to heaters and properly operated.

The schedules for the series of demonstrations for Orange county growers follows:

Sept. 22, 9:30 a. m., North Whittier Heights Citrus association, October 3, 2 p. m., Mabury ranch, Fruit street, one mile east of Santa Ana.

Growers are invited to bring heaters to the demonstrations to be tested, according to Wahlberg.

ROOF GAMBLERS

GAMBLERS say, "We bet the roof will last another season" . . . and it doesn't! THEN, they not only must re-roof; they must redecorate; repair the damage done by leaks!

Even worse off are those who say, "We bet these cheap, shoddy shingles are as good as Pabco Shingles." When they lose (and they always do!) they pay for two roofs.

Today, Southern California is repairing, rebuilding, NOT gambling! And as part of this forward-looking program, Pabco and its allies, the leading roof contractors, pledge you all their facilities to make your particular roof a safe and sure thing!

Pabco Shingles will play their part. Simply because people everywhere have such confidence in them. They are supreme in quality, fire-retardant and offer you many exclusive designs and colorations. And they are the only shingles that are double-coated! Most important, they are instantly available.

LIBERAL TIME PAYMENTS

Pabco Shingles are laid right over the old roof. None of the mess of ripping off the old shingles. Double insulation against heat and cold. And the cost averages only $12.00 to $14.00 monthly, if you take advantage of the easy Pabco Budget Payment Plan.

FREE ROOF INSPECTION

First of all, take advantage of Pabco's FREE roof inspection service.

Extension Service in Demonstration at Katella Oct. 4

An orchard demonstration has been arranged by the Agricultural Extension service to be held on October 4 at 2 p. m. to show methods of controlling the depth of cultivation. In most orchards citrus roots are comparatively shallow, particularly in sandy and heavy soils, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Several attachments have been perfected in recent months that may be used by growers to maintain a shallow stirring of the soil, thus reducing the cutting or destruction of the feeder roots in the upper structure of the soil.

These attachments and other equipment for controlled cultivation will be demonstrated at a special field meeting called for that purpose at the place of Floyd Benson, located at the corner of Katella avenue and Ninth street. This is two miles north of Garden Grove and one-half mile east of J. P. Fairbank, specialist in agricultural engineering, Agricultural Extension service; W. R. Schoonover, specialist in citrus culture; and Farm Advisor Wahlberg will discuss the trends in citrus cultivation.

DETROIT BANKERS GIVEN CLEAN BILL

DETROIT, Sept. 20. — (UP) — Cleared of criminal charges in a ruling which declared their banks solvent, officers of Detroit's two largest banking institutions today laid plans for financial relief of depositors whose monies have been tied up for several months.

Judge Harry B. Keldan in a sudden termination of the famous one-man investigation last night found that the officials were not guilty of any acts involving criminality or moral turpitude.

He further ruled that the First National Bank and the Guardian Bank of Commerce, in which $312,000,000 in deposits is tied up, were solvent on February 14, the day Gov. William A. Comstock declared a bank holiday in Michigan.

Placentia Boys Open Fall Work

PLACENTIA, Sept. 20. — The regular sessions of boys' clubs were held Tuesday at Calvary church, Placentia, with the Junior Prospector group meeting at 4 p. m. with their leader, the Rev. Donald Milligan, and the Junior and Senior Fisherman groups meeting at 7 p. m. with the Rev. Mr. Milligan and Lawrence Allen as leaders.

The Senior Prospector groups met this afternoon at the church with the pastor.

Murder At Bridge

by ANNE AUSTIN, author of "THE BLACK PIGEON," "THE AVENGING ANGEL" and "MURDER BACKSTAIRS" © 1933 BY ANNE AUSTIN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Janita Selim is murdered at bridge. Suspicion rests on Lydia Carr, the maid; Flora Miles, Nita's sister; and the man who is from Dexter Sprague, Nita's lover and partner in blackmail, and on Ralph Hammond, engaged to Nita. All but Flora have been practically cleared.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
"I had to hunt quite a bit for them," Lois Dunlap apologized as she resumed her seat at the table and spread the glossy prints of half a dozen large photographs for Dundee's inspection. "Do you know 'The Beggar's Opera'?"

"John Gay—eighteenth century isn't it?... As I remember it, it is quite—" and Dundee hesitated, grinning.

"Bawdy?" Lois laughed. "Oh, very! We couldn't have got away with it if it hadn't been a classic. As it was, we had to tone down some of the naughtiest passages and songs. But it was lots of fun, and the boys enjoyed it hugely because it gave them an opportunity to wear tight satin breeches and lace ruffles.... This is my husband, Peter. He adored being the highwayman, Robin of Bagshot," and she pointed out a stocky, belligerent-looking man near the end of the long row of costumed players, in the photograph which showed the entire cast.

"You say that Mrs. Selim accepted your proposal that she come to Hamilton to organize a Little Theater, after she saw these photographs?" Dundee asked. "Had she refused before?"

"Yes, I'd gone to New York for the annual Easter play which the Forsythe School puts on, because I'm intensely interested in semi-professional theatricals," Lois explained. "Nita had done a splendid job with the play this year and I spoke to her after it was over. She was not at all interested then, but polite about it, so I invited her to have lunch with me the next day, and showed her these photographs, in the hope that they would make her take to idea more seriously. We had borrowed a Little Theater director from Chicago, and I knew we had done a really good job of 'The Beggar's Opera.' The local reviews—"

"These 'stills' look extremely professional. I don't wonder that they interested Nita," Dundee cut in. "Will you tell me what she said?"

"She rather startled me," Lois Dunlap confessed. "I first showed her this picture of the whole cast, and as I was explaining the play a bit—she didn't know 'The Beggar's Opera'—she almost snatched the photograph out of my hands. As she studied it, her lovely black eyes grew perfectly enormous. I've never seen her so excited since—"

"What did she say?" Dundee interrupted tensely.

"Why, she said nothing just at first, then she began to laugh in the queerest way—almost hysterically. I asked her why she was laughing—I was a little huffy, I'm afraid—and she said the men looked so adorably conceited and funny. Then she began to ask the names of the players. I told her that 'Macheath'—he's the highwayman hero, you know—was played by Clive Hammond; that my Peter was 'Robin of Bagshot,' that Johnny Drake was another highwayman, 'Mat of the Mint,' that Tracey Miles played the jailor, 'Lockit'—"

"Did she show more interest in one man than another?"

"Yes. When I pointed out Judge Marshall as 'Peacum,' the fence, she cried out audibly: 'Why, I know him! I met him once on a party.... Is he really a judge?' and she laughed as if she knew something very funny about Hugo—as no doubt she did. He was an inveterate 'lady killer' before his marriage, as you may have heard."

"Do you think her first excitement was over seeing Judge Marshall among the players' pictures?" Dundee asked.

"No," Lois answered, after considering a moment. "I'm sure she didn't notice him until I pointed him out. The face in this group that seemed to interest her most was Flora Miles. Flora played the part of 'Lucy Lockit,' the jailor's daughter, and Karen Marshall the 'Peacum,' you know. But it was other feminine lead, 'Polly Flora's picture she lingered over, so I showed her this picture,' and Lois Dunlap reached for the portrait of Flora Miles, unexpectedly beautiful in the 18th century costume—tight bodice and billowing skirts.

"She questioned you about Mrs. Miles?" Dundee asked.

"Yes. All sorts of questions—her name, and whether she was married and then who her husband was, and if she had had stage experience," Lois answered conscientiously. "She explained her interest by saying Flora looked more like a professional actress than any of the others, and that we should give her a real chance when we got our Little Theater going. I asked her then if that meant she was going to accept my offer, and she said she might, but that she would have to talk it over with a friend first. Just before midnight she telephoned me at my hotel that she had decided to accept the job."

The heck of it was you HAD to buy cheap!

You HAD to go around and look for the big red Cut-Rate signs because you HAD to save a few pennies wherever you could and what of it! Loyalty to home-owned stores?—phooey! What if the cut-raters did pay starvation wages so that they could sell a few well known articles at cost as BAIT, and then pick up a little profit on inferior trash? You had to get by—you STILL have to!

No one criticizes YOU. The nationally known articles were BARGAINS to you; the cheap stuff was anything but! It takes the President of the country to correct such a destructive way of doing business. You'd be glad to pay a fair price if you had the money!

Thank heaven THIS store didn't go crazy! It's worth something today to be known as a RELIABLE store!

MADDEN'S PHARMACY

him. For in it he, was sure, was hidden the key to the mystery of Nita Selim's murder. Not at all interested in the proposition to organize a Little Theater in Hamilton, Nita had been seized with a strange excitement as soon as she was shown photographs of a large group of Hamilton's richest and most prominent inhabitants. . . . But there was the rub! A large group! Would that group of possible suspects never narrow down to one? Of course there was Judge Marshall, but if Lois Dunlap's memory was to be trusted, Nita had not noticed the elderly Beau Brummel's picture until after that strange, hysterical excitement had taken possession of her. And if it had been Judge Marshall whom she had come to Hamilton to blackmail, would Nita not have guarded her tongue before Lois? The same was true about her unusual interest in Flora Miles. . . .

Dundee tried to put himself in Nita's place, confronted suddenly with a group picture containing the likeness of a person—man or woman—against whom she knew something so dreadful and so secret that her silence would be worth thousands of dollars. Would he have chattered of that very person? No! Of anyone else but that particular person! It was easy to picture Nita, her head whirling with possibilities, hitting upon the most conspicuous player in the group—dark, tense, theatrical Flora, already pointed out to her as one of the two female leads in the opera. . . . But of whom had she really been thinking?

Again a blank wall! For in that group photograph had appeared every man, woman and girl who had been Nita's guest on the day of her murder. . . .

Dundee, paying more attention to his driving, now that he was in the business section of the city, saw ahead of him the second-rate hotel where Dexter Sprague had been living since Nita had wired him to join her in Hamilton. On a sudden impulse the detective parked his car in front of the hotel, and five minutes later was knocking upon Sprague's door.

"Well, what do you want now?" the unshaven, pallid man demanded ungraciously.

Dundee stepped into the room and closed the door. "I want you to tell me the name of the man Nita Selim came here to blackmail, Sprague."

"Blackmail!" Sprague echoed, his pallid cheeks going more yellow. "You're crazy! Nita came here to take a job—"

"She came here to blackmail someone, and I am convinced that she sent for you to act as a partner in her scheme. . . . No, wait! I'm convinced, I tell you," Dundee assured him grimly. "But I'll make a trade with you, in behalf of the district attorney. Tell me the name of the person she blackmailed and I will promise you immunity from prosecution as her accomplice."

"Get out of my room!" and Dexter Sprague's right forefinger trembled violently as it pointed toward the door in a melodramatic gesture.

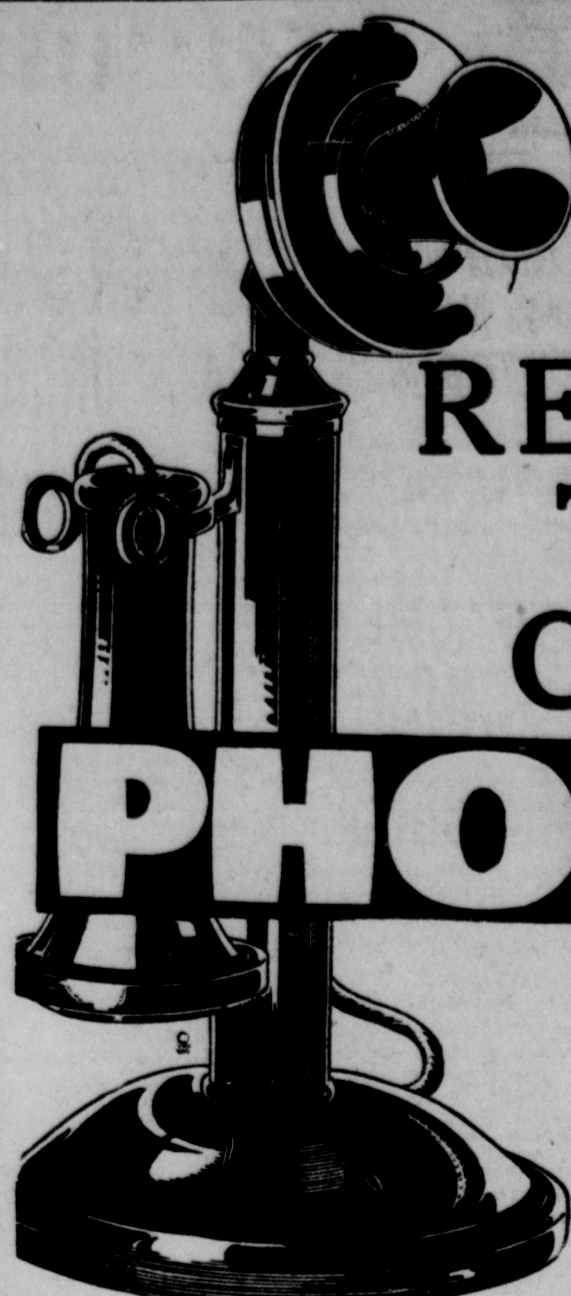

"Very well, Sprague," Dundee said. "But let me give you a friendly warning. Don't try to carry on the good work. Nita got $10,000, but she also got a bullet through her heart. And the gun which fired that bullet is safely back in the hands of the killer. . . . You're not going to get that movie job, and I was just afraid you might be tempted! . . . Good afternoon!"

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T. A. ADOPTS RESOLUTION OPPOSING NIGHT FOOTBALL CONTESTS FOR H. S.

A resolution directed to the board of education opposing playing high school football games at night was adopted at a meeting of the junior college and high school P.-T. A. last night. The meeting was the first of the school year, and was held in the high school cafeteria.

Welcomes to the large number present were extended by Mrs. Roy Beall, president of the group, and by D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school.

A Fathers' Council was organized at the meeting to co-operate more fully with the school. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Tibbets and a number of girl students.

Gordon Beisel spoke on present methods of advisement, stating that while the teacher-advisor serves an excellent purpose, yet the service is inadequate because of the time element. He said there is a great need for intelligent co-operation of parents in helping students arrange their programs to meet their needs and also for college requirements.

Discussing the advisability of students taking a course in engineering, George Holmes said the requirements of the course include many other subjects which make it a desirable course.

Miss Ruth Dohmer gave an interesting talk on art.

The program was interspersed with songs by the Mothers' chorus, directed by Dudley Page Harper. A cello solo was given by W. G. Axworthy, accompanied by Mildred Marchant. Two humorous readings were presented by Mrs. M. E. Geeting. Mrs. Mary Beisel spoke at length on the program planned for the ensuing year.

ISSUE PERMITS FOR TWO NEW HOMES

Two new homes, each valued at $4500, will be built in Santa Ana at once by McKee Fisk, dean of the Santa Ana Junior college, and E. C. Rogers, 1607 Durant street, building contractor. Building permits were taken out yesterday.

Rogers will construct the Fisk home at 1325 Martha Lane. The frame and stucco residence will be six rooms and one story in height. The Rogers home will be built at 2112 Greenleaf street, will be of frame and stucco construction, six rooms and one story.

Merchant Makes 2nd Salary Boost

A second increase of 10 per cent in the wages for his employees, effective at once, was announced yesterday by Clyde Lawrence, proprietor of Clyde's Market on the north side of the Empire Market at Second and Broadway. Lawrence said he was attempting to do everything possible to aid in the recovery program as sponsored by the national administration and that his business was showing regular improvement. The first 10 per cent salary boost was made last week.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By J. GORDON ALLARD
Certified Culbertson Teacher

Last week I began a discussion of the new Culbertson Four-Five Notrump Convention. This article will continue where last week's discussion ended.

Any five notrump bid (when not made in answer to four notrump) is unconditionally forcing to partner who must respond. It shows three aces and a king in a suit previously bid by either partner.

The responses are as follows: (1) If holding added values plus the fourth ace, partner contracts directly for seven-odd either in a suit of his own or a suit of his partner's for which he holds adequate support.

(2) If holding no added values partner signs-off with a six bid in the lowest ranking suit if possible. You may hold the fourth ace and still sign-off if holding no values other than those already shown. The hand illustrates the five notrump bid.

OPEN SPECIAL HIGH SCHOOL BAND COURSE

To afford students who play band instruments an opportunity to play in a real band and obtain band playing experience, the Santa Ana high school is offering a special course of instruction in all band instruments, it was announced today by Principal D. K. Hammond.

The instruction work will include proper breathing methods, tone production, phrasing, ensemble playing and a thorough knowledge of band routine and technique.

The course will be under the direction of S. J. Mustol, and will be continued throughout the entire school year and will be without charge.

First meeting for practice and organization of the band will be held in the high school auditorium next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and every Saturday morning thereafter at the same time.

Members of the band will be given opportunity to play at football games here as well as to participate in other school functions and programs. Every Santa Ana boy or girl who has a band instrument was urged to be present for the first practice.

FIRST ISSUE OF J. C. PAPER OUT

Don, weekly publication of the Santa Ana Junior college, made its initial appearance of the year today under the direction of John McCoy, instructor of Journalism, and James Torrens, editor.

McCoy said that the complete staff will be selected shortly from the class, members of which do all the writing for the paper.

STANTON SAYS STATE UNABLE TO AID ROAD

That the state highway commission is prevented by law from appropriating any money for the construction of the extension of South Main street, Santa Ana to the Coast Highway at Corona del Mar, was declared last night by the Hon. P. A. Stanton, state highway commissioner, at the meeting of the Orange County Coast association held in Social Hall, San Clemente.

During his talk, Stanton again defended the action of the commission in its use of the $15,600,000 R. F. C. funds under which Orange county gets about $52,000 of the federal fund, when asked to county officials it should have had $350,000.

He declared the state legislature had made it mandatory that all federal funds, from whatever source, should be placed in the general highway fund and divided equally between the northern 45 counties and the southern 13 counties. He repeated many of the figures and statements given at the August meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at Newport Beach. Speaking of the division of the gasoline tax funds, he declared that after the federal and county and city money had been taken out there was little left for the commission for new construction.

Speaking directly of the Main Street extension, Stanton estimated that the six miles of improved road would cost $240,000, exclusive of rights of way.

Dan Mulherson, president of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce, in opening the discussion as chairman of the roads committee, said the proposed road would cut off four miles between the inland cities and the coast.

Following the passing of a motion authorizing a special committee to gather data for the furthering of the project, the chairman Peacock, George Raymer and Mulherson to serve.

A map, prepared by Sherman Denny of Huntington Beach, which showed the roads of the coastal area and a plan for its beautification was displayed.

Four Santa Anans At U. of Redlands

Four Santa Ana students have entered the University of Redlands to begin or continue their college work, according to an announcement made today by college officials.

Glen Bishop will enter as a freshman and Robert Clingan, Leonard Morris and Mary Nalle will enter as sophomores. All freshmen arrived on the campus yesterday for special examinations and organization. Transfer students were guests at a luncheon today. General registration takes place tomorrow and classes meet Thursday.

'GETS MAN' AFTER 16 YEARS

Sheriff Logan Jackson (left) started searching for Jose Sanchez (right) 16 years ago, following the murder of Loren Eckles, close friend of Jackson's, in El Toro. When sheriff's deputies located Sanchez in San Fernando Monday, Jackson made the arrest personally and obtained a confession from the murderer.

START NEW CUSTOM AT J. C.; WOMEN WEAR FRESHMAN CAPS

Beanies here, beanies there, beanies everywhere. That is the impression one gets at the Junior college where even the freshmen girls have to wear those silly looking head pieces that are just large enough to stick on the wearer's head—if he is careful. Even the girls who are members of the freshman class have to wear the "hateful things" which is an original practice on the local campus. The practice in other schools is to make the girls wear arm-bands to indicate their class.

How the feminine members of the class manage to keep the caps on is a mystery to the masculine mind. Walking in the halls or on the campus one sees blond waves, brunette bangs, and red curls topped by a red and black speck, the ultimate in inconsistency reached by the girls with the sophisticated bearing, who does her dark hair in a knot on the back of her neck, and wears a "beanie" at a rakish angle over her left ear.

"However, no matter what one may think of the combination of charming women and silly hats he must allow the sophomore committee on school traditions credit for at least making an attempt at originality," one of the students remarked.

The ancient Incas of Bolivia refused to be parted from their loved ones after death; the living and dead remained together in dark, windowless dwellings.

CONFESSIONS BY BOYS SOLVE MANY CRIMES

Solution of nearly 25 burglaries and petty theft cases in Santa Ana during the past year was brought to light today with the confessions of six boys recently sent to the Whittier School for Boys.

Hastily compiled totals revealed that the gang of Santa Ana lads, ranging in age from 9 to 15 years, stole nearly $250 in cash, $600 in jewelry, three automobiles, and a long list of merchandise, including a radio, cartons of candy, rifle, outboard motor, soda pop, shoes, binoculars, ice cream and electric motors. When the boys were grilled before their sentence to Whittier, they refused to talk but when assured they had been given a maximum sentence, they talked freely and implicated several other boys.

The thefts have taken place over the past year and more. One of the largest jobs was the stealing of about $600 of jewelry from the Y. M. C. A. safe where it had been placed for safe keeping, and most of which was recovered. On other occasions, $1.90 in cash and 12 bottles of pop were taken from the Y. Automobiles were stolen in Bellflower, Lynwood and Orange on from a garage at Main and McFadden streets and sold in Balboa for $12.

The Firestone Service station at First and Main was robbed two times of $21 and $8. Earl's Service station at Fourth and Van Ness was robbed of $15 in candy and cigarettes and a rifle was stolen from the Grand Central garage. Three of the boys took $50 from the J. C. Penney store and three entered the Santa Ana Airways and took $13.40.

Other places entered or articles stolen included a radio from the Moritz Foundry, Third and Garfield; Orange County Welding Works; Dr. Quon's garage, fireworks; Wells and Wells Bottling works; purse containing $21 at the Fleeta del Oro; Boyle Service Station, $9; Santa Ana Book store, $1.30 in purses; Bishop and Main service station, 50 cents; Montgomery Ward company, shoes; Yost Surgeon theater, three electric motors; Ball and Harrison, 12 cartons candy; $22 from Legion hall; binoculars from parked car, and ice cream from Arden dairy.

With the wholesale confession of the boys, most of the unsolved cases on the police files were cleared up. Additional thefts may be unearthed upon further questioning of the boys in Whittier and the ones they implicated in

STATE BOARD RULES NO SALES TAX REQUIRED ON MEALS FOR PUPILS AT SCHOOL CAFETERIAS

School cafeterias will not be required to levy a sales tax on meals to students but will themselves be considered as consumers of food-stuffs and should pay the tax to their sellers, according to a sales tax bulletin issued today by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Other rulings of the state board of equalization contained in the bulletin included the fact that receipts from the rentals and maintenance of auto truck tires and for the maintenance of drilling edges and working efficiency of oil well tools and machinery are taxable.

The sale of advertising service by the publishers of newspapers, periodicals and magazines, which advertising appears in the newspaper, magazine or periodical sold, is not a sale of tangible personal property.

Some time after October 1 the state board of equalization at Sacramento will mail out to all licensees of which they have records forms upon which taxable sales are to be reported accompanied by remittance of 2 1-2 per cent thereon for the two months of August and September.

October, November and December sales taxes will be reported after January 1 and between the first and fifteenth of the month succeeding each quarter, and reports will be made for each succeeding quarter between the first and fifteenth of the month following.

October, November and December sales taxes will be reported after January 1 and between the first and fifteenth of the month succeeding each quarter, and reports will be made for each succeeding quarter between the first and fifteenth of the month following.

Menton, who is legal adviser for the board, will be asked to rule as to the actual legality of collecting any moneys from students of elementary and high schools for fees or deposits to cover loss or breakage of school property.

The board, at its previous meeting, voted to reduce the required amount at the high school from $5 to $1.50. This decision was reached in the face of a protest presented by a group of parents represented by Ridley Smith, Santa Ana attorney.

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson reported to the board, when Smith's letter was presented, that he had requested a ruling from Lantz and had received no reply. Lantz's reply was received by Henderson two days after the board meeting.

Henderson reported to the board last night that in his opinion Lantz held that such collections were illegal for elementary and high schools. A copy of an additional letter from Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction Sam H. Cohn supplemented this opinion.

Cohn also said, "In the university and teachers colleges, the first two years of which are comparable with the junior college, fees and deposits are authorized. So while I know of nothing in the law providing for fees and deposits in the junior college one may reason by analogy in favor thereof."

Santa Ana, Carl Warner, juvenile officer, is continuing the investigation.

HOLD BOND THEFT SUSPECT FOR TRIAL

Robert Seacord, charged with grand theft and burglary in connection with the robbing of the safe at the B. J. MacMullen garage, 129 West First street, on Labor Day, had his preliminary hearing in justice court yesterday and was bound over to the superior court by Judge Kenneth Morrison.

Seacord had pleaded not guilty, claiming he found the $500 Liberty bond stolen from the Santa Ana garage on the floor of a Tia Juana gambling house. The $125 in currency which was stolen has not been recovered. He is being held in the county jail under $5000 bail.

Painters of Orange County are requested to attend meeting Thursday, September 21st, 7:30 p. m., at Builders Exchange Bldg., Room 216, 206 N. Main St., Santa Ana, for purpose of cooperating with President Roosevelt's NRA plan. Adv.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY - THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Panhellenic Members Are Anticipating Valuable Year

Resumption of the monthly meetings planned for the year's calendar of Panhellenic society, is always of marked interest to this group of college women who are affiliates of national fraternities. So cards issued this week by a sextet of hostesses, promise to draw together quite a crowd for the opening session of the year on Tuesday night, September 26, in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe.

Mrs. Clarence McFadden, president of the society, Miss Reva Hawkins, Miss Lucinda Griffith, Miss Maurine Mathis, Miss Kathryn Smith and Mrs. Elmo Sundquist will form the hostess group receiving guests at the appointed meeting time of the society, 7:30 o'clock.

College women eligible for membership are invited to ally themselves with the society at this time, as are those who previously belonged. All are reminded that membership for the year will include only those who have paid their dues on or before the second meeting.

This initial meeting will have several important business matters for discussion so a good attendance is desired by the hostesses. Further details of the evening's program may be learned by telephoning any one of the group of six.

Nurses Hear Address By President of District

Meeting recently with Mrs. Mabel Grouard, 1076 West Fourth street, members of District 36, State Nurses' association, heard a timely talk on "Nurses and NRA," given by Mrs. Olive King, president of the district.

The speaker brought out that nurses had adopted the plan and purpose of the Blue Eagle before government control or patriotic persuasion had taken effect.

Remaining hours were devoted to bridge games, at the close of which Mrs. Grouard served refreshments.

Those present were Mesdames Elizabeth Eisenbraun, Hazel Flaherty, Mabel Brent, Greba Scott Dale, Rose Jackson, Edna Woods, Julia Salisbury, Edna Eklund, Olive King, Esther Gale, Mabel Grouard, Gertrude Mulligan; the Misses Elsie Bennett, Mabel Reed, Carrie Morse, Matilda Acheson, Isabelle Acheson, Laura Hansen, Almyra Patterson, Doris Walling, Lydia Neumeyer, Lena Neumeyer, Ruth Crawford, Mary Francis Crawley, Edith Pithie, Rose Mouchie, Leona Wunderlick and Ann Stolpe.

Class Meeting
Twenty members of the First M. E. Delta Alpha class were entertained recently in the home of Miss Minnie Wild, 636 North Ross street, where the Misses Maude and Alta Thomas were co-hostesses with Miss Wild.

During a business session in charge of the president, Miss Irma De Barr, plans were made for home and foreign missionary work to be carried on this year. Mrs. Lida Scharr sang solos and Miss Wild read an original story.

Tea and home-made cakes were served by the hostesses.

Friends Give Surprise Affair Honoring Natal Day

Friends of George Hawley joined in making his birthday anniversary a merry occasion, meeting Saturday night in his home, 308 Wright street for a surprise party.

Dancing and bridge games were enjoyed until a late hour. Prizes for scoring high in the card contest were awarded Mrs. Raymond Marsile and Charles Snyder. Mrs. Snyder and Forrest Collar were consoled.

A Dutch lunch was served as a final feature arranged by the assembled group.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marsile, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Collar, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Jayberg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, Miss Joy Zech, Mrs. Twila G. Reid, Lyle McLaren and Fay White.

Announcements

Santa Ana Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West today announced a benefit garden party to be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the gardens of the Ray Lambert home on the San Joaquin ranch, Irvine. A general invitation has been extended by the hostess committee to all card players and those enjoying a social afternoon, to be present and take part. Both auction and contract bridge will be played, and other games will be provided for those who prefer card games.

Pretty prizes, home-made refreshments and beautiful surroundings will be features of the afternoon planned by Mrs. Raymond Crum, Mrs. William West, Mrs. William Mize and Mrs. Paul Etrold.

American Legion auxiliary will have a birthday party and business meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish rooms of the Church of the Messiah.

Members of Ebelle society's Garden section wish to correct the impression that the benefit card party being given tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock under their auspices in Ebelle clubhouse is for club members only, since it is open to the public. All interested in attending are to make reservations with the committee in charge, Mesdames J. E. Paul, J. E. Gowen, Perry Lewis, James C. Metzger.

Santa Ana Junior College Y. W. C. A. has secured Dr. Sonia Poushkaroff of Hollywood to address the first morning session of the college year, scheduled for Monday, September 25 in the Y hut on the campus. Dr. Poushkaroff's romantic history as a Russian refugee and her thrilling World war experiences have enthralled many audiences including the Southern District B. P. W. before which she appeared in Anaheim. Preceding her address next Monday evening will be a covered dish supper held at 6 o'clock.

Social Activities Are Started by Jaysee Campus Groups

With the inauguration of the new school year, opening meetings of all Santa Ana Junior college service clubs Monday evening took the form of reunions which later gave place to plans for rush affairs.

Moave

That an informal party would be held on October 2 and a formal party on October 14 for rushers was the decision reached at the business meeting of Moave, held in the home of Miss Catherine Hull, in Orange. It was also decided that one meeting each month would be devoted to business, and the other to social affairs.

Members attending besides Miss Hull and the advisor, Miss Frances Egge, were the Misses Vivian Rogers, Billie Brucke, Gertrude Chapman, Violet Johnson, Kay Go-rath, Lydia Mitchell, Natalie Neff, Buibelle Smith, Ardith Farham, Jeanne Lelve, Esther Vogt, Betty Hall and Ernestine Wakeham.

Las Gitanas

The Misses Jean and Doris Rockwell entertained Las Gitanas in their home at 801 South Ross street. The home of Miss Pauline Wells, 2020 Victoria drive, was selected as a possible place for their first rush affair. Miss Martha Humes was appointed secretary temporarily for Miss Hazel Burgee.

Those who attended were the Misses Jean and Doris Rockwell, Ruth Jenkins, Florence Warner, Kay Bement, Pauline Wells, Martha Humes and Mrs. J. Parley Smith, adviser.

Sisterhood of Spinsters

Sisterhood of Spinsters meeting with Miss Irene Boyer, 1011 North Ross street, formulated plans for a rush party to be held the first of October. Cards were played until refreshments were served.

Sharing in the evening's program were the Misses Louise and Barbara Rurup, Elizabeth Downie, Barbara Copeland, Marian Brownridge, Leora and Dorothy Hatch, Mary Jean DuBois, Florence Turner, Pauline Berry, Aileen Adams, Irene Boyer, Virginia Cogan, Florence Campbell, Jean Berry and Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, adviser.

Las Meninas

No definite decision was reached as to place or date for their rush parties when Las Meninas met in the home of Miss Ruth Crowl, 710 South Main street. A social evening followed business discussions and terminated with the serving of refreshments.

Las Meninas present were the Misses Ruth Crowl, Marian Leihl, Kay Holmes, Leonore Walker, Joy McPhee, Norma Wilson, Dorothy Tedford, Erma Seams, Jo De-rogio, Frances Robinson, Evelyn Furtch, Alline Buck and the Misses Genevieve Humiston and Dorothy Decker, advisers.

Bucaneers

Bucaneers met in the home of Joe Wilson, 1623 French street, to plan for rush parties and to select pledges. Rhodes Finley and Tom Kistinger were appointed as a committee to plan initiation ceremonies. Cards, music and the serving of refreshments concluded the evening's entertainment.

Those present were Ray Hoar, Abe Bergsetter, Rhodes Finley, Bob Tannenbaum, Earl Motley, Joe Wilson, Tom Kistinger, Bill McDaniel; associate members attending were Harold Post, Jack Wright, Larry Ridenour and Ted Neece.

Brotherhood of Bachelors

Bome Koral was elected bouncer and plans for initiation at the next meeting were made when Brotherhood of Bachelors met with George Curtis in his home at Anaheim. A list of 25 names was approved and these students will begin their pledgeship at the next meeting to be held with Alex Clark on South Parion street. Dr. Murray Bates accepted the advisership of the Brotherhood. Bruce Handy as grand exalted presided during the evening.

In addition to George Curtis, host, those attending were Jack Havens, Bome Koral, Jimmy Lash, Bob Wilson, Harold Benson, Bruce Handy and Dr. Bates.

Los Gauchos

Besides planning parties for rushers Los Gauchos made arrangements for the semester's program when they met in Huntington Beach in the home of George Farquhar. An initiation committee composed of Raymond St. Claire, John Hoy and Herbert Diebel was appointed. Charles Warner was elected treasurer.

Gauchos present were Ray Futura, Herbert Diebel, John Hoy, Raymond St. Claire, Charles Warner, George Lang, George Farquhar, Maurice Plumlee, Orville Plumlee and H. A. Scott, adviser.

Junior Lions

Plans for the semester as well as those for pledging were formulated by Junior Lions at their meeting with Harry Clark, 1914 Greenleaf street. A committee for the Christmas dinner dance to be held December 5 was appointed by Bill Proctor, president, and is composed of Austin Joy, Clarence Patmore and Larry Taylor.

Members attending were Walter Workman, Tom Flippen, Harry Clark, Larry Taylor, Dave Whitford, Clarence Patmore, Bob McFarlane, Willard Minor, Austin Joy, Erhardt Ronshaldt, James Decker, Bill Proctor, Merrill Bowler and George Holmes, adviser.

Scouts Elect Officers And Leaders for Patrols

Girl Scouts of Mrs. R. R. Ruckrick's Troop No. 1 elected officers and patrol leaders at their recent meeting held in headquarters on Richmond avenue.

Ida Bergsetter was named secretary; Nancy Del Russell, treasurer; Jane Nalle, Jean Russick and Dorothy Jane Elliot, song leaders. Elected as leaders and assistant leaders of each patrol were Ruth Jane Mathews and Lucille Griggs, Cardinal patrol; Josephine Butler, Jean Russick, Poppy patrol; Carol Jean Brink-erhoff, Betty Hudson, Clover; Alice Bacon, June Blodgett, Bluebonnet patrol.

The girls made plans to carry on activities in small groups. Ida Bergsetter, Ruth Jane Mathews and Lucille Griggs already have started spatter print collections of leaves.

Members were happy to greet Dorothy Newman, daughter of the caretaker at Rokill, as a new member of Bluebonnet patrol.

Varied Activities

During a recent meeting of the troop a one-act play, "Four Fairies of Scouting," written by June Blodgett, was put on. In the cast were June Blodgett, Alice Bacon and Nancy Del Russell.

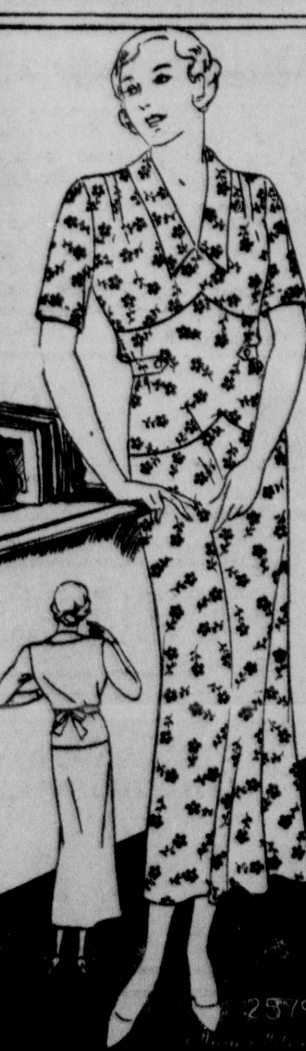

Members of Poppy patrol held a winter bake at Jack Fisher park a short time ago.

Senior Scouts of the troop, Mildred Kemper, Charlotte Mock, Frances Voss, Evelyn Kent, Jean McAuley, are planning a winter bake for tonight along the creek bed. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Russick, who will conduct a study period on Orange county history. The girls will follow a trail, at intervals practicing signaling, bandaging and other features.

Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine has rented her home in Fullerton, and is spending several weeks here in the home of her mother, Mrs. T. A. Vance, who at present is in Washington, D. C., expecting to return home the latter part of October. Dr. Tremaine plans to divide her time between the homes of her mother and of her sister, Mrs. Joy F. Wakefield in Pasadena. Jack Reeve, Dr. Tremaine's nephew, who has been making his home with her, has entered Oneonta Military Academy in Pasadena. His brother, George T. Reeve, who also has made his home with their aunt, has returned home from Seattle, Wash., where he spent two

Bride-elect's Aunt Entertains With Shower

When Mrs. Frank Cannon entertained yesterday afternoon in her home, 615 South Birch street, in compliment to her niece, Miss Juanita Cannon of Anaheim, fiancée of Clyde Osborn of Long Beach, she had the assistance of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Loren Cannon, herself a bride of a year.

The honoree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cannon, is to become the bride of Mr. Osborn, a Long Beach postman, on October 3. Zinnias, asters and other bright-petaled blooms had been arranged throughout the den and living room of the home, where guests spent the afternoon sewing and chatting. They worked on napkins and tea towels, which were presented Miss Cannon at the close of the day.

It seemed quite appropriate that a postman should arrive with a parcel for Miss Cannon, and it was several minutes before guests penetrated the clever disguise of Frank Cannon, delivering the lovely bridal shower gifts in this manner.

For the refreshment interval which followed, the honor guest and a family group were seated at a large table made lovely with lace cloth, yellow tapers rising from silver candlesticks and a centerpiece of yellow pompon dahlias. The sunny motif was further observed with yellow china, frilled nut cups of poppy design and place cards. All other appointments were in crystal and silver. Smaller tables conformed to the same decorative idea.

Those present were Miss Cannon, the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Steven Cannon, Anaheim, and her two grandmothers, Mrs. John Cannon of Santa Ana and Mrs. John Bullock of Long Beach; Mrs. Ernest Hoeking, Anaheim; Mrs. Elmer Rosewurm, Long Beach; Mrs. Samona Otto, Huntington Beach; Mesdames J. L. Cannon, Charles Hoff, Harold Bullock, Clyde Dear-dorff, Cecil Yates, James Sewell, F. M. Thomas, Louis Hoff, and the Misses Marjorie Hoff, Mary Armstrong, Isophene Michael and Gladys Thomas, all of this city, with the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Cannon and Mrs. Loren Cannon.

Hermosa O. E. S.

Preceding the semi-monthly meeting of Hermosa chapter, O.E.S., in Masonic temple, Monday night, was a family dinner which attracted an unusual attendance of members and their families. Tables were beautifully decorated by the dinner committee. Dr. Estelle Workman, chairman; the Misses Le Verne and Lillian Harrell, Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead, Mrs. Maggie Reed and Mrs. Hannah Stuesey, Mrs. Stuesey had prepared the meat course served with home-cooked dishes brought by those taking part.

Chapter session at 8 o'clock was conducted by Mrs. Maria Wallace and W. B. McConnell, worthy matron and patron, and visitors were greeted from several other chapters. At the close of the business session, officers formed a semi-circle, and each in turn lighted one of the candles on a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Lillian McCubrey especially for Mrs. Wallace, whose natal day was in September. Mrs. Florence Hawkins made the presentation of the cake.

Mrs. Wallace was further complimented when Mrs. Maggie Reed made an unexpected entry dressed for a shower and carrying a large umbrella from which swayed many handkerchiefs, gifts of the chapter members; when Mrs. Nell Neigh-bor, associate matron, presented her a gift from the officers, and when Mrs. Pearl Livezey sang a solo dedicated to her, words of which had been written by Mrs. Neighbor.

The remainder of the evening was a continuation of the social features and was given over to informal games of bridge.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Dinner
1 cup Oyster Stew Vegetable plate:
2 Tbsp. Harvard beets
2 Tbsp. Squash Casserole
2 Tbsp. string beans dressed with
1 tsp. butter
Small mould or whipped lime jelly
Clear tea, no sugar.
Calory total, 475.

Probably you have noticed and wondered why the calory values of the diet meals are so low this week? This is why: Three letters came from readers who complain that they cannot lose weight on the 125-calory daily allowance. That is entirely possible, but if they still cannot lose on 800 calories per day, and those mostly low valued calories, I doubt that any diet can do much for them. Their overweight is the result of a glandular deficiency and their reduction problems should be handled by a physician.

For those who do lose weight slowly on the 1200-per day scale, this week's menus will be too severe, so they may add the additional 400 calories to their day's allowance in the form of fruit, hot skim milk, soup, or a chop or some hamburger added to the dinner menu.

Make the Oyster Stew with skim milk, take out the diet portions and for the family add a little butter, and in the bottom of each soup cup put a small spoonful of whipped cream dusted with calery

La Habra Seeks Federal Loan For New City Hall

SEEK $10,000 FOR BUILDING SIGNS PLANNED

LA HABRA, Sept. 20.—The La Habra city council decided last night to make formal application for $10,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation in order to build a city hall on the city's 109 by 130 foot lot at the corner of Main and Erna streets.

A one-story, concrete structure has been proposed. The city attorney will forward the application and the city engineer will work with Councilman Frazier of the fire committee and Councilman Newton of the building committee in drawing up plans.

Through a verbal request of the Business Men's association, the matter of securing an officer for at least one day per week for the renewal of drivers' licenses, was discussed and Councilmen Frazier and Wilson were appointed as a committee to find out if this would be possible. Residents of La Habra now have to drive to Santa Ana in order to have licenses renewed.

The matter of placing large signs at the entrances to the city of La Habra, bearing the name of the city, was discussed at some length and a letter from the American Legion of La Habra was read. The signs were thought to be a good idea and Councilmen Newton and Wilson were appointed as a committee to meet with the other organizations in the city which were interested in the erection of such signs and see what part of the expense they would be willing to bear and what type of sign would be best.

The city engineer reported that the cilling of certain alleys in the city had been completed and asked permission for the patching of certain pavement along Central avenue at the same time. Griffith company employees are in the city replacing pavement torn up when the Union Oil company had to repair a pipe line. This request was granted.

The city engineer was instructed to install a fire line on Mountain View avenue.

The matter of water consumers having more than one house on a meter connection was discussed as to the rate which should be charged and Councilman Wilson, water department chairman, was asked to get a list of all services where more than one house was on one service connection and to report at the next meeting.

A communication was read from A. H. Johnson, owner of the Johnson apartments on Central, complaining of noise and confusion caused by the meetings held in an adjoining building by the members of the Pentecostal church. The city clerk was instructed to write to Mr. Johnson and inform him that if he would send in a formal complaint, the city would follow it up and take action.

SKITS PRESENTED IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 20.—Members of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Methodist Episcopal church met for an all day session in the church parlors recently. Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. E. M. Dozier, Mrs. S. R. Fitz and Mrs. Arthur Schnitzer. Various colored asters were used to decorate the tables.

The program was presented in the afternoon by the Foreign society with Mrs. Arthur Schnitzer as chairman. Devotions were led by Mrs. Fred Anders. The subject was "Stewardship and Mite Boxes." Two skits were given to demonstrate the subject. The first one was "Sacrifice," with the following taking part: Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. S. S. Jackson, Mrs. E. P. Williams, and Mrs. E. M. Dozier. Those taking part in the second play, entitled, "Personalizing the Dollar," were Mrs. Leigh Tourant and daughter, Carolyn; Mrs. Fred Anders, Mrs. Holliday, Mrs. Wayne Holt and children, Jean and Kenneth; Miss Phyllis Ralston, Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Mrs. Edward Chaffee, Miss Elva Ralston, Mrs. J. O. Arley, Mrs. Arthur Schnitzer and daughters, Fern and Joy. Mrs. S. R. Fitz gave a talk on "Stewardship." Others taking part in the program were Mrs. E. R. Schneider, Mrs. S. C. Oertly, Mrs. J. O. Arley, Mrs. A. Schnitzer and Mrs. J. M. Chilson.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 20.—The Beloit company's No. 1 well came in this morning, flowing 5000 barrels of oil and 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas. It is located on Ocean avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets.

The company has storage facilities for 3000 barrels of oil.

FAMILY DINNER PARTY HELD IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Margaret Beardsley, of East Acacia street, entertained with a family dinner recently in honor of the relatives who have birthdays in September. Those honored were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goodwill of Ontario; Keith Beardsley, of Midway City; Dorothy and Donald Beardsley and the hostess, Mrs. Beardsley.

The following guests were seated at one long table centered with a lovely bouquet of garden flowers: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goodwill and son, Gordon, of Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Beardsley and family, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beardsley and family, and Fred Skinner, of Garden Grove.

Mrs. Beardsley was given a pleasant surprise at her home recently when a group of friends and relatives gathered to help her celebrate her 75th birthday anniversary.

A social evening was enjoyed and the honoree was presented with a number of lovely gifts. At the close of the evening home made ice cream was served with two lovely birthday cakes, one an angel-food cake, the gift of Mrs. F. Skinner, and the other, a large white cake, decorated with yellow candles and made by Mrs. Beardsley's granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Beardsley.

Those present besides Mrs. Beardsley were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Beardsley and children, Gene, Keith and Bonnie, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beardsley and sons, Charles and Donald, and daughter, Dorothy; Mrs. E. A. Leamy, Mrs. Addie Gleason and Fred Skinner.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR JASPER GOBLE

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 20.—Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church for Jasper F. Goble, 75, who passed away at his home at Sixth and Acacia streets, September 15, after an illness of several months.

The Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services, with the Rev. Elmer Lyon, pastor of the Baptist church, giving the invocation and reading the obituary. Mrs. Irvine German gave three vocal numbers.

Interment took place in Westminister cemetery with the local Masonic lodge in charge of the services at the grave. The following members acted as pallbearers: Roland Hand, Norman Bryan, Alfred Nearing, Charles Edwards, Harry Ames and Ralph Smith.

Mr. Goble was born in North Webster, Ind., May 14, 1858, and was united in marriage to Alice J. Butler, in Brook, Ind., February 21, 1895. The couple moved to Garden Grove in the fall of 1919. Mr. Goble operated a barber shop until about a year ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice R. Goble; one daughter, Mrs. Caddie McAdams, of Swissvale, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. Effie Wise, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. Mat Welch, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; and one brother, Edward Goble, Atwood, Ind.

School Pupils to Get Legion Medals

COSTA MESA, Sept. 20.—Members of the American Legion post decided to arrange for the presentation of a Legion medal to the boy and the girl having the highest standing in the 1933-1934 eighth grade graduating class from the grammar school at their meeting this week. Some discussion was held as to welfare projects during the winter.

Lloyd Cramer was named as a member of the auditing committee. John L. Webster was received into the post. Commanding Leroy Anderson was in charge of the meeting.

EXPECT CROWD AT METHODIST MEET SEPT. 21

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 20.—With the local Methodist church the scene of the annual fall meeting of the Orange County Methodist union Thursday, a large attendance is expected, according to R. C. Patton, of Orange, president of the union, and E. M. Dozier, secretary.

The day will be taken up with two sessions and a basket lunch. Various conferences will be held. Ralph Chaffee, of Garden Grove, will be chairman of the finance conference, with D. A. Ray Moore, conference treasurer, as discussion leader.

The educational conference will have as chairman R. C. Patton, and James McGiffin, director of young people's work, Methodist church, Southern California, as discussion leader.

Perry W. Mathis, Anaheim, will act as chairman of the temperance conference, and Mrs. Mary M. Moorehouse, temperance committee chairman, Pasadena, First Methodist church, will be discussion leader.

During the assembly scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium, the Rev. Grover Ralston, local pastor, will lead devotionals; Dr. George Warner will give a summary of reports from the afternoon conference, and Dr. James E. Dunning, recently of Pacific Palisades, now pastor of Orange, will give the principal address. This will be an open meeting for the public.

TUSTIN GROUP IN RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

TUSTIN, Sept. 20.—The annual High School P.-T. A. reception for the high school teachers was a unique and colorful event of Monday evening, held in the school cafeteria, with approximately 150 parents and interested friends in attendance.

Baskets of red and yellow autumn flowers and red, yellow and green crepe paper streamers extending between electric lights decorated the room. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Souers and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hibbet were in charge of the program. Mrs. L. R. Stearns, president, in gay Spanish costume, extended greetings, and the flag salute was led by Mrs. Frank Jones.

Mrs. Virginia Stivers Bartlett, authority on early Spanish customs, was introduced by Mrs. James Willis Rice. She talked on the subject of "Early Spanish California School days." The speaker told of the hardships of the early days and of the fiestas, urging that the people of today keep the fiesta spirit alive.

Miss Helen Marshall, with Miss Alta Fisher as piano accompanist, sang several numbers, including "Spanish Troubadours," "Serenade" and "Come to the Fair." A trio, composed of Sol Gonzales, violin; Stevin Rodriguez, cello, and Miss Ruth Frothingham, piano, entertained with a group of Spanish selections. Miss Henrietta Armandez danced the Mexican National dance and also sang four Spanish songs with the trio accompanying her.

Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood, membership chairman, talked briefly on the subject of "Hold Fast," and urged as many as possible to join the P.-T. A.

During the social hour, which followed the delightful program, refreshments of cake and coffee were served on prettily appointed trays by a group of young women in gay Spanish costumes.

Woman's Club to Aid in Plans for Reception Oct. 2

MIDWAY CITY, Sept. 20.—Members of the executive board of the Midway City Woman's club met Monday and appointed as representative for the P.-T. A. teachers' reception, Mrs. M. E. McKay. The reception is being held at the Presbyterian social hall October 2 at 7:30 o'clock and every organization in the school district has been requested to appoint a member.

The meeting was held at the home of the vice president, Mrs. W. H. Taylor and was attended by Mrs. J. L. Esser, social chairman; Mrs. M. E. McKay, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Pryor, secretary; Mrs. B. L. Kirkham, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Dale Dunstan, member of the same committee; Mrs. Robert Hazard, membership chairman, and Mrs. Taylor, vice president.

LIONS CLUB LEADERS ATTEND MESA CLUBHOUSE DEDICATION

COSTA MESA, Sept. 20.—Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college, and governor of fourth district of Lions International, was the chief speaker on the program yesterday, when Costa Mesa Lions met for the dedication of their new clubhouse.

Others present at the meeting were Carl Harvey, of Brea, president of the county council; Vernon H. Galloway, special representative of Lions International, of Chicago; Dr. Elliott Rowland, past governor of district four; John Corral, secretary to Dr. Dexter; and John J. Holland, secretary of the Orange County council.

Dr. Dexter, speaking of the ideas and ideals that point toward the pursuit of social progress, used as the theme of his address, "What Can Lionism Do." Service clubs are pointing the way to closer friendships, the greatest thing in the move toward the establishment of a code in higher social ethics, he said. They must, in order to do the most good, conserve the highest ideals of the past, co-ordinate those of the present, and create new ones, he said.

The Rev. W. I. Lowe gave the invocation. Galloway and Carl Harvey both spoke briefly. Howard Cutler gave several selections on the occasion, Leroy Anderson, president of the local club, presided.

Immediately following the main address, Dr. Dexter welcomed into the club as new members, Walter Ford and A. X. Dixon.

A special vote of thanks was extended to the women of the Costa Mesa Friday afternoon club and local Lionesses for the flowers and other decorations; to all others who helped in various ways in making the clubhouse a possibility and the dedication program a success, and to Frank Chapman for the use of the lot.

MANY PIONEERS ATTEND SERVICE AT GREENVILLE

GREENVILLE, Sept. 20.—Many former members and attendants of Greenville Methodist church, South, some who as children attended the Sunday school, returned to attend services September 17 in answer to a general invitation. There were 70 present and following a song service the pastor, the Rev. Edward Moody, rendered a vocal solo. The pastor's topic for his sermon was "Homecoming."

Among special guests present at the homecoming were Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, of Santa Ana, who came to Greenville, then "Old Newport," as a bride from England. The Wakeham home and the church were built at the same time, the lumber which 55 years ago was brought in mostly by boat through Newport harbor, coming in the same consignment.

Mrs. Belle Nuckolls, of Santa Ana, who from 1891 to 1900 was postmistress, and who is the daughter of the Rev. C. C. Wright, for several years pastor of the local church, was another visitor.

Mrs. S. C. Perry, wife of the Rev. S. C. Perry, of Santa Ana, who in the early 90s and again in 1901 was local pastor, and her son, Elmo Davis, was another to be present. The hymn, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," was sung in the Rev. Mr. Perry's honor. He was unable to be present.

Others attending the homecoming included the pastor and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Moody; Miss Ruth Moody and Edward Moody, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth and daughter, John Pope, Miss Florence Smith, Mrs. Anna Holm, Talbert; Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Farnsworth and daughter, Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, Santa Ana; Mrs. Addie L. Blakey, Miss Leora Blakey, Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grisot and Mrs. Grisot sr., who motored from San Diego to be present; Mrs. Nicholas Brockett, daughter, Miss Thelma Brockett, and son, Peter Brockett, Stanton; Best, J. A. Shiffer, Miss Evelyn Shiffer, Dwight Shiffer, Mrs. Ruby Lanter, Charlotte Lanter, Mrs. May Clayton, Kenneth Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Planchon, Miss Martha Planchon, Virginia Planchon, Richard Planchon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Planchon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Bray and daughter, Fredrick, Arthur and Allen Bray, Miss Alva Davis, Chester, Velda and Charles Vetter, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Atent and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Jansma and three children, Mrs. Katherine Tedford Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cole and daughter, Mrs. U. S. Kuffle.

SCHOOL BILLS DISCUSSED AS P.T.A. MEETS

BREA, Sept. 20.—W. E. Fanning, superintendent of Brea grade schools, addressed the P.-T. A. at the first meeting of the year, held in the Laurel school building Tuesday afternoon. Fanning spoke on "Education" and referred to some of the 75 bills on educational matters passed this year.

"The new application of education," the speaker said, "is to train individuals in all phases of life so that they may easily adjust themselves to whatever conditions they may be placed in." Fanning was presented by Mrs. Glenn Jones, program chairman, who also presented Miss Helen Johnston and her pupil, Miss Doris Hirligoyen, in steel guitar numbers.

Mrs. Frank Bickel, president, named Mrs. Guy McIntyre as hostess, chairman; Mrs. C. S. Lee, pituitary chairman; Mrs. Marie Tippin, historian; Miss Dorothy Vorhies, principal of Laurel school, as a member of the Laurel cafeteria committee, to assist Mrs. E. F. Bush and Mrs. A. L. Cone. Miss Margaret Davis will be the musician.

Mrs. Jorgan Hansen, membership chairman, announced the goal this year is for 200 members as against 122 for last year. The room of Miss Dorothy Boyce at Laurel and Miss Katherine Yates at Brea school won the prize for mothers' attendance. A dinner for the teachers, instead of the usual annual party, will be given by the association early in October. The P.-T. A. will furnish meat, bread and the dessert, the parents supplying a covered dish and salad. Mrs. Emil Harke and Mrs. Ray Wolfe served dainty cakes and tea at the close of the meeting yesterday.

SEEK CONCILIATOR FOR ORANGE COUNTY

PLACENTIA, Sept. 20.—Ralph McFadden, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, told members and guests of Placentia chamber of commerce Tuesday that as soon as arrangements can be made and enough have signed the petition asking for such service, a conciliator will be appointed for Orange county to adjust difference between the mortgage holder and the mortgagee for county residents.

Other speakers at the meeting included a representative of a tractor company who suggested that the tractor, as a thermometer of the business life of the country, is dependable, and that sales are looking up.

Announcement was made that the exhibition games between picked teams of Placentia will be played at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Bradford school grounds. Ed Eisenacher of the chamber is

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The funny duck seemed to enjoy the swinging. Scouty cried, "Oh, boy! I'd hate to have to try that trick. I know I'd take a flop." The duck swings back and forth with ease. I couldn't hang on, by my knees. I'll bet the duck will soon get tired. Perhaps we'd better stop.

The parrot said, "Oh, my, you're wrong. That clever duck is very strong. Why, she'd sit on that rope all night, if you'd keep swinging it."

"I'll bet, right now, that your arms ache. A little rest you'd better take." "That suits me fine," said Scouty. "I am fagged, I will admit."

So, he and Copy let the rope drop down and Goldy cried, "I hope you've had real fun, old ducky. You are clever as can be." The duck then flapped her wings around and started waddling over the ground. Her tail bobbed back and forth, and 'twas a funny sight to see.

Just then the Tinies heard a sound and, as the whole bunch looked around, wee Dotty shouted, "Oh, let's run. I see a little bear." "Just look! It's heading right for here. I don't want it to come too near." "The bear is tame," the parrot cried. "It won't give you a scare!"

Then to the cub bear he cried out, "You've come to show us tricks, no doubt. Well, we will fix the rope again. Then see what you can do."

The rope was tied between two trees. The bear hopped up on it with ease. "Just watch him," said the parrot. "He will show you something new."

"Now, first he'll try his finest trick. Unless he fails, it will be slick. Get him a long stick, Duncy. Don't be 'fraid of him at all."

The cub soon held the stick real tight, and walked the rope. My, what a sight. The Tinymites all held their breath. They thought the bear would fall.

JUST ONE PAPA AFTER ANOTHER for LITTLE GLORIA CARUSO

Gloria Caruso, at 13, with an electrically transcribed record of her father's voice. At right, Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso-Ingram-Holder.

By Madelin Blitzstein

GLORIA CARUSO, the blue-eyed, golden-haired youngster who fell heir to one-half the vast fortune left by her father of the world-renowned voice, seems to have been born to be a child of many nationalities.

Already in the short span of her 13 years, she has known an Italian and an English papa, and only recently she made the acquaintance of her third sire, this time a gentleman of American birth and French residence.

Actually, Little Gloria is the daughter of the young and handsome Dorothy Benjamin, social registerite and member of an old Knickerbocker family, and the Italian operatic tenor, Enrico Caruso, whose remarkable throat brought him an annual income of $250,000 from the Metropolitan Opera alone.

Not long after the death of the great Caruso, Gloria acquired her first stepfather in London in the person of the English Captain Ernest August Ingram, engineer, soldier and gentleman of wealth.

But Captain Ingram's marriage to the tenor's widow was extremely short-lived. The groom expressed a great desire for good old British cooking and, according to his bride, disliked life in Palm Beach, where she had taken him on their honeymoon.

Divorce followed quickly and about all that Gloria remembers of that venture of her mother's is that from it she acquired her one baby sister, Jacqueline Dorothy.

ALITTLE later, Gloria heard people say she was soon to be "fathered" by a new gentleman, none other than the eminent Pittsburgher, Alexander Pollock Moore, known for his good spirits and easy comradeship, his successful marriage to the idol of a previous generation of stage-door Johnnies, the captivating and truly beautiful Lillian Russell.

Gloria heard her mother deny these rumors. Then she heard her mother announce the engagement. Finally she learned that the whole matter was cancelled because of some trouble about her guardianship and, incidentally, the income on her fortune.

But several months ago a new applicant for the "fatherhood" of Gloria appeared. It was another American, but one who chose to make his home in a handsome French chateau. True, he was old enough to be Gloria's grandfather, but then had not Enrico Caruso been 20 years older than Dorothy Benjamin when he had married her in 1918?

Society in New York and Paris was as puzzled as Gloria. There were rumors to the effect that the engagement was being kept secret pending the settlement of certain Caruso properties in Italy.

Finally denials were useless. Someone discovered the publication of the banns for the forthcoming marriage between Mrs. Dorothy Ingram and Dr. Charles Adams Holder. And Caruso's widow became the bride of the 60-year-old Dr. Holder, who was born in New York, practiced medicine in Philadelphia, entered the consular service and the field of banking and now lives at the palatial Chateau d'Ury near Fontainebleau.

WHETHER Gloria's mama will remain content with her third step into matrimony remains to be seen, but one thing is certain: the spirit of Caruso can never accuse his widow of letting their child live a dull life.

As a matter of fact, had Gloria's real father lived, it is highly possible that her life would have been just as crowded with vicarious adventure. For the golden-voiced tenor was a man of fickle heart before he met Dorothy Benjamin.

More than a quarter of a century ago, all New York was talking about the Monkey House Case, wherein the rising young Italian tenor was accused of accosting a woman in an unchivalrous manner in the Central Park Zoo. The woman did not show up in court, but Caruso, fuming his protestations, paid the $10 fine.

ALITTLE later Europe as well as New York was humming with the Giachetti-Caruso scandal in which Mme. Ada Giachetti, herself a famous contralto in Milan, was suing Caruso and accusing him of all manner of bad treatment. But the supreme Pagliacci countered with tales of how she had broken his heart by running away with his chauffeur after he had lavished palaces, jewels, clothes and love upon her in traditional Latin style.

After this case was settled in Caruso's favor, the Italian father of a salesgirl in Milan came forth with a request for $50,000 to amend his daughter's heart, producing 60 passionate love letters. Caruso won again. Two years later an American girl sued him for $100,000, but he managed to settle for $3000.

THEN when Emma Trentini, the petite musical comedy star, announced her engagement to him, he vociferously denied it. But in 1918 Caruso declared he had really lost his heart to the 25-year-old society girl, Dorothy Benjamin.

Here there was a new obstacle in the form of the girl's father, Park Benjamin, who raised vigorous objections against his daughter marrying an Italian, a man so much older than she and whom he termed "a public singer."

But love was stronger than paternal warnings and Dorothy Benjamin became Mrs.

Caruso, wife of the greatest tenor of the century. Now it was her turn to come into the limelight. She and her brother, Park Benjamin, Jr., were enraged by their father's attitude toward a comely brunet of Italian parentage, Anna Bolchi, who had lived in their home as Dorothy's governess. They declared that their father wanted to adopt this woman into his family in order to disinherit his children.

They went to court to fight him. But Park Benjamin outwitted them by adopting Anna Bolchi in Pennsylvania.

Soon after, Park Benjamin died, leaving $60,000 in cash and his personal effects to his adopted daughter, and adding that she was to receive the residuary estate at the death of his wife. His five children, including Mrs. Caruso, he cut off with $1 apiece.

LESS than a month later Mrs. Benjamin died and the children began to contest the will. Years later the case was settled out of court, with Anna Bolchi Benjamin receiving $318,116 and the children getting small cash settlements.

In the meantime many other events crowded Mrs. Caruso's life. Her husband's royalties from phonograph records reached new annual peaks. Her Long Island home was the scene

(Copyright, 1933, by EveryWeek Magazine—Printed in U. S. A.)

Life has never been dull for the immortal tenor's daughter, what with her mother's international marriages---first to an Italian, then an Englishman, and lastly to an American living in France

After the tenor's death, Mrs. Caruso became interested in spiritualism . . . which led her to her second marriage.

of a $400,000 jewel robbery. She gave birth to a baby daughter, Gloria. And her ex-chef sued her for firing him on the ground that he had served half-cooked asparagus, bad brains and veal almost every day.

Three years after the marriage, Caruso died in his native Naples. His will, written in 1919, made no mention of his wife and daughter. It was held invalid according to Italian law. An agreement was reached whereby Mrs. Caruso remained guardian of the child. Gloria was to get one-half of the estate and the other half was to be divided into four equal parts among Caruso's widow, his brother Giovanni, and his two Italian sons, Rodolfo and Enrico, Jr. It was estimated at the time that the estate was worth well over $1,000,000.

SINCE then many controversies have ensued. In 1927 Mrs. Caruso asked the New Jersey courts for $33,500 annually from Gloria's estate, saying that her own income of $9000 had to be supplemented by $13,300 for Gloria's maintenance and $20,200 for her own expenses.

The court granted her $12,000. Only last year, after she had been deposed as guardian, the entire Caruso estate was finally closed in New Jersey as well as in Italy, and Mrs. Caruso was definitely appointed the general guardian of her daughter, to whom half the estate belongs.

SOON after the tenor's death Mrs. Caruso became interested in seances and spiritualism and disclosed that a medium had said to her: "I see somebody asleep and there is a chapel and a priest and a nun. I also see a cross. Don't worry."

Mrs. Caruso took this to mean her late husband in his mausoleum at Naples. She went to Italy to spend the summer on the Caruso estate and took Gloria with her. And the summer did not pass uneventfully.

Romance was just around the corner, for at Lake Como she took daily swims with Captain Ingram. After repeatedly denying her engagement to him, she was married to him in London.

LESS than two years later Dorothy Caruso left Ingram, got a divorce and came to America with her new baby Jacqueline. Gloria remained in a Parisian school. The divorce barred Dorothy from marrying for 10 months but it was not until 1927 that rumors of the Moore love affair began to crop up. Then just as suddenly as the matter had come up, it disappeared and the Moore-Caruso nuptials were definitely cancelled.

But when Alexander Moore died, Gloria Caruso heard that her mother had been bequeathed $25,000 by the wealthy publisher who had been successively U. S. ambassador to Spain, Poland and Peru. Mrs. Caruso was in good company, for Moore had left the queen of Spain $100,000 to be used "for charitable purposes."

Queen Victoria recently accepted $40,000 in settlement for the $100,000 bequest, when the Moore estate had depreciated with the general decline in securities. But Mrs. Caruso insisted on the full $25,000 Moore originally had left her.

NOW Caruso's widow has presented Gloria with a third papa.

And again Gloria finds herself with a cosmopolitan father, for her newest one, who gave his age as 60 while his bride said she was 39, served as American consul at Rouen, Christiania, and Cologne, was connected with the U. S. consulate in London and became a trusted foreign trade adviser to the American state department.

His first wife, the former Miss Margaretta Bonsall Taylor of Philadelphia, died in Paris last January. With her he had two children, Margaretta and Charles.

Consequently, Gloria now has two new relatives, an American step-brother and sister, in addition to half-English Jacqueline and Italian Rodolfo and Enrico, Jr.

When Caruso was in his prime . . . as Rhamdames in the opera, "Aida."

SERENADERS ARE POPULAR GROUP

The Twilight Serenaders, a popular vocal quartet heard on KREG each Wednesday at 8:45 p. m., is getting fan mail from all parts of Orange county and outside the county limits as well. This is decidedly encouraging for them as it would be for any artist.

Their program for tonight: "When the Days Grow Longer," "Little Old Church in the Valley," "Noah's Ark," "Listen to the Mocking Bird" and "A Perfect Day." The boys will gladly sing request numbers if they are requested in advance of their broadcasts.

LEWIS, MCCORMAC WILL BROADCAST

The first evening presentation by Ned Lewis, accompanied by Hal McCormac, of vocal cello and ballads will be made tonight on KREG at 7:30. The program will include "Serenade-Rimington," "Toselli," "Requiem," "Stevenson and Homer," "Rose in the Bud," "Barrow and Foster," and "The Hills of Home," Fox.

Their initial program last Monday morning displayed the merits of their offerings and tonight's broadcast should be most enjoyable. They are scheduled at 11 a. m. Mondays and Fridays and at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesdays.

Written comments upon these programs by listeners will assist to insure further broadcasts by them.

K REG NOTES

Tonight's episode of "Si and Elmer," one of KREG's most popular presentations, will reveal several surprises. This feature is broadcast Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7:15 p. m. and Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 11:15 a. m. The Pennant Oil and Grease Co. is the sponsor.

This evening's broadcast by the Adult Education Department of the Santa Ana City Schools at 5:30 from KREG will present Miss June Arnold. She will give a reading and explain the courses offered in public speaking and their objectives.

This week's "People Who Make News" broadcast at 7:45 tonight on KREG will concern Paul Whitehead, called "The King of Jazz." Fred Perry, new singles champion of the tennis courts; Watkins Glen and the trapped deer which found its picture in many newspapers recently; and Wilhelm, Queen of the Netherlands. Each glimpse of each personality is full of interest and stories never told before.

A brief broadcast of N. R. A. news is scheduled tonight at 6:45 on KREG and will continue to be broadcast at that time daily except Sunday for the time being. Shifts in the time of this new feature will be noted in the program schedule which appears on this page.

Day by day more news of interest for Orange county women, women who are thrifty shoppers and who are particular about their clothes, comes from the Sorority Shop. Their broadcast tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 immediately following Reid's all request prize program, will announce several most desirable items in late arrivals.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References are Pacific Standard Time

With Hugh Wiley, nationally known author and short story writer, as his guest of honor, Captain Dobbie will pilot his NBC of Joy over a nation-wide NBC network including KFED between 6:30 and 7 tonight.

Intimate details in the life of the world famous naturalist, Luther Burbank, will be given during the California on Parade program over KPO from 8 to 8:30 tonight.

CHURCH GROUP LAUNCH DRIVE HONORS GIRL FOR DEEDS ON BIRTHDAY

ANAHEIM, Sept. 20.—Miss Fern Hein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hein of 925 West Center street was pleasantly surprised Monday night when upon returning to her home from a short trip to Orange she found members of the "La Ha Se" class of the Evangelical church, waiting to surprise her and wish her happiness upon her twentieth birthday. The surprise was cleverly arranged by the young honoree's mother.

During the evening hours "rook" was played with the attractive awards going to Miss Grace Mauehan, first and Mrs. Howard Pannier, second.

Immediately before the supper of ice cream and birthday cake was served by the hostess the class presented Miss Hein with a present. The birthday cake held 20 lighted pin candles, the same color motif being used in the small umbrella candy baskets and the ices.

Those present were the Misses Frances Hein, Lella Brown, Roxie Warden, Lilma Lühring, Mildred Mauehan, Grace Mauehan, Thelma Zimmerman, Mabel Gust, the honoree, Fern Hein all of Anaheim, and Anna Hucroft of Orange, and the Mesdames Dorothy Link, Elsie Kirkpatrick, Marie Hess, Eva Lotz, Howard Pannier, Charles Pannier, Arthur Korn, Carl Korn and the hostess, R. C. Hein.

KIWANIS HONOR CONSTITUTION DAY

ANAHEIM, Sept. 20.—Upholding the Constitution of the United States and declaring that it is sufficient if applied rightly Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris addressed members of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon in their annual observance of "Constitution Day".

His talk was titled "The Constitution is Sufficient Today." Program chairman for the day was Fred Backs.

The music was provided by Ernie Buhols who presented Miss W. Ethel Campbell in vocal solos. She is the music instructor at the elementary schools and was accompanied at the piano by Miss Katherine Steward.

CLUBS HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

ANAHEIM, Sept. 20.—Hi-Y clubs will hold a joint meeting tonight at the Y. M. C. A. building, the business session will be preceded by a pot luck supper under the supervision of George Watts. This will be the first meeting of the fall.

Conrad Jengeward, Y. M. C. A. secretary, had charge of the barbecue supper last night that the Pullerton Junior College held at Irvine park.

Episcopal Guild Plans Luncheon

PULLERTON, Sept. 20.—The St. Andrew's guild of the Episcopal church will hold a covered dish luncheon meeting September 21 at the home of Mrs. A. G. Wright on Cannon lane. Hostesses will provide coffee, rolls and butter. All are requested to bring their own table service.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1933

THIRTY-ONE STATES FOR REPEAL

Thirty-one states have now voted for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Only five more are required to insure the elimination of the 18th Amendment from the Constitution. This, of course, is on the assumption that the Supreme Court will uphold the method by which the action was done in each state.

The number of votes cast in each state has been a surprise. In the states where it was expected that the anti-repealists had every prospect of winning, the vote has shown up at least two to one against them.

There is a combination of circumstances that has caused this, and it is very difficult to evaluate any one of them. To start with, the precedent established by other states has had a tremendous effect upon each succeeding state. Again, the depression is causing people to vote for a change in any case, and having tied up their hopes to our Chief Executive, Mr. Roosevelt, they are following his leadership, even to the point of their vote upon the liquor question.

To enlarge that vote, and to insure its activity, the Post-Master General, Mr. Farley, has appealed to the representative of the administration, for the people to vote for the repeal of the amendment to assist in the NRA program. This has had tremendous effect, especially in the strong Democratic states.

Again, there has been the matter of the provision in the law that repeals the capital tax which was recently enacted, which provides for $1.00 on the thousand of the capitalization of the corporation. This is a Federal tax, and in the law itself there is a provision that the tax is repealed on the July following the year in which the President proclaims the repeal of the 18th Amendment. This provision of the law has been published in circular form, and has been distributed in recent months to corporations in the various states where elections have been held. So their desire to cut down their own personal taxes is influencing the vote for the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

All these combined, with the interest of the liquor manufacturers and those desiring to sell liquor for profit, has produced an organization and array of power in the present state of business conditions, that has made the campaign for repeal little short of a unanimous ratification parade.

In many of these states where the elections have been held, they have held at the same time an election to do away with the state provision to restrict or prohibit the liquor traffic. This was true in our own state of California.

Our enforcement act has been defeated, and more than that, a provision made to our Constitution which prohibits any local option or restriction of the liquor traffic, when the 18th Amendment has been repealed. In other words, if, by the middle of December, it is announced that the 18th Amendment has been repealed, there will be no ordinance, either of the city or county, or state law, that will forbid the sale of any form of intoxicating liquor to any class of people, of whatever age, or at any particular point. And no such law can be legally passed, except by the state legislature itself.

Already there is a reaction setting in, and we believe we are expressing the general opinion, when we say that today in Santa Ana and Orange county there would be a great deal bigger "dry" vote than there was at the time of election. The conditions which are developing in connection with the sale of liquor, and the conditions which are in part directly due to the sale, such as drunkenness and drunk driving, are causing a very pronounced change in the sentiment of many people. We understand that the brewers are already noting it, and some of them with keen alarm.

THE STRUGGLE IN CENTRAL EUROPE

The powers of Europe are playing a deep, swift and intense game, and the ultimate end is by no means certain. Hitler is endeavoring to force Austria in line, in spite of the attitude of France and England, and in spite, probably, of three-fourths of the people of Austria also.

While she is not doing it force of arms, she has been doing it by the activity of the Nazi group in Austria, and by influences outside, including the bombardment of the Austrian people through circulars dropped from airplanes repeatedly. This, under the protest of the powers, has been discontinued, but every possible device is being carried on to make internal trouble in Austria, to the end that they will recognize, at least, the influence of Germany, whose suggestion will have the practical force of a decree.

It is generally felt that if Hitler and his group should succeed in accomplishing this they would aim at the disintegration of other groups in contiguous nations. France and Great Britain see the danger, and unquestionably Mussolini does also, but his motives are not unmixed in desiring to keep Germany friendly, though, in the last analysis, it is very improbable that he could afford to line up, in case of real trouble, with Hitler.

But, as an overture of friendliness, Mussolini has proposed, on behalf of Germany, and ostensibly for saving the Geneva arms conference from absolute failure, that offensive arms be reduced following a trial period of four years, and during this time they agree not to exceed the present status of their land and air arms. Again, that the British program be accepted as a basis of reduction, whereby they have a small standing army at home, and then supplement it by their colonial forces, and that an international commission be appointed to control armaments. He would permit Germany a small increase in defensive arms, which should be added from time to time.

All chemical and bacteriological methods of warfare should be abandoned, under his plan, and manufacturing of these things for war purposes should be prohibited in the various countries. It is possible that these not overly serious problems re-emphasized by Mussolini's proposal, will save the conference, and certainly the proposed concessions are very plainly an overture to Germany.

Germany has the allied nations in a position where they are morally weak, as far as disarmament is concerned. For it will be recalled by the readers that in the League of Nations' covenant, in the proposal for the World Court, and in a personal letter written by Clemenceau, and approved by all the representatives of the leading Allied powers, Germany was assured that her disarmament was only the forerunner of the disarmament of the nations.

The developing situation in Europe is of tremendous importance. It seems as though it will be difficult to bring about a conclusion of it without conflict. This would be certainly true, were it not for the fact that the sentiment of the people of all the nations is against war, and the financial situation is such that war, it would seem, would be impossible.

A REWARD OF MUCH READING

The really satisfying thing about reading is that sooner or later all one's questions are answered. Having always been hauntingly curious about the compromises of Siamese twins it is some relief that the question has been answered, at least as it worked out for the original Siamese twins, Chang and Eng. Considering the variations in personalities one has reason to wonder what it would be like for two individuals, who varied from each other as some blood relations do, to be fastened together. We would go farther to learn how a pair of these inseparable twins got along together than to see them. Learning how to get along together is really getting at the root of living.

In the case of the original pair, Eng was more intelligent than his brother, Chang, who was inclined to be a roisterer. It seems that Eng, used to bribe his brother Chang to be patient while he pursued his favorite pastimes. Bribery! Not much guidance in that. But at any rate we know how they managed to get along together.

Maybe the reason people say race track bettors "follow the ponies" is because the average bettor never gets ahead of them.

CHANCELLOR DOLLFUSS A CONTRAST

Chancellor Dollfuss is capitalizing on the mistakes of Germany's present leaders. And more power to him in this particular. He has issued a personal message to Americans to come to Austria to see for themselves a country fed in the Germanic tradition and peopled by a Teutonic race where freedom still reigns and "tolerance prevails irrespective of race or religion." In Austria one may still find the best characteristics of Germany safeguarded by sanity.

Chancellor Dollfuss, who is battling against Hitlerism on the one side and Fascism on the other, has superseded the socialist government which was the salvation of Austria when following the war it found itself generally speaking a country without a hinterland.

The Chancellor of Austria offers a refreshing contrast to reports from Germany as one glances over the news and notes that he was inspired to speak the cherished truth that a man's soul is more than his race.

Leisure—Not Idleness

There is a very old saying that it is not sorrow nor trial that puts the severest test to human character, but prosperity and personal success. There is much truth in the saying, and much also in the further one that the surest test of a people is in the use to which it puts its leisure. . . . Man works because he must. He makes the best of it and finds no reason for complaint, but rather for pride that he can do it well and in content.

But of his leisure he makes what he will. What he is finds full evidence in the fashion in which he spends the time that is his to choose what he will do.

The matter happens to have become a very vital one right now. The American people are to be tested in the matter of their understanding of the blessedness of leisure. . . .

Here now at last is a chance to follow one's own instinct for voluntary labors of fascinating and inconsequential sorts, to have time for study, for reading, for unharmed works of human helpfulness, for digging in one's garden, for exploring the neighboring countryside, for knowing one's neighbors. . . .

The word leisure itself, merely means the chance for choice.

To use it not only with wisdom, but with prodigal and joyful abandon is to find a new spirit in life, a new happiness in living, and a new heart for work when the working time comes round.

Faisal al Husain

The death of King Faisal is a blow to Iraq, just taking its first toddling steps as an independent nation. The blow comes all the harder at this moment when the clumsiness of an Arab General in handling the Assyrian trouble has put Iraq in bad with Great Britain, France and the League. Faisal was backed on as one man who could pull Iraq out of her difficulty.

Faisal was a remarkable man with an extraordinary equipment for Arab leadership. A son of Husain, the last Grand Sharif of Mecca and head of the most distinguished family in Islam from the purely Moslem point of view, Faisal had the enormous prestige of a direct descendant of the Prophet. He had both kinds of schooling. He was trained as a boy amongst the tribesmen in the desert. As a young man he was educated in Europe. He knew both his people and the world. He was equally at home in a black tent or at Windsor.

With all this backed by a keen intelligence, great tact and patience and a vigorous and likeable personality, Faisal was a man made for the hopes of Arab nationalism. He was only 48.

Not only his kingdom of Iraq but the whole Arab world has lost an enlightened leader.

More Truth Than Poetry

REVENGE AT LAST

A Vienna scientist has developed a means of exterminating insect pests by electricity.

The thrips that make meals of my roses,
The aphids that swarm on my vines,
The beetle which nods not nor dozes
As on ripening cherries he dines,
The moths that so hungrily hover
Through the blossoming trees in the Spring
Are presently due to discover
That at last they have finished their fling.

For years they have reaped where I planted—
For years, flitting 'round at their ease,
Their songs of contentment they chanted
While they stripped all the fruit from my trees.
In spite of all lethal deterrents
They winged their piratical ways,
Feeding fat on tomatoes and currants
Washed down with the deadliest sprays.

They have brazenly set at defiance,
From the day that I sowed the first seed,
Every method invented by science
To curb their inordinate greed.
They have always regarded my garden
As not mine at all, but their own,
And without ever craving my pardon
They have constantly reaped where I've sown.

But the days of their triumph are over;
They soon, with shrill, piteous squeals,
Will fall on their backs in the clover
And kick up their slim little heels.
My long deferred vengeance is coming
To every malevolent mite;
I shall set a small dynamo humming
And snuff them all out, like a light.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

FOUR SECTIONS ON OUR ECONOMIC FRONT

Yesterday and the day before I emphasized the war-like urgency of our economic situation, and the necessity for national unity respecting our major objectives regardless of our differences of judgment on details.

Today I want to trace the main lines in the pattern of the NRA program which tend to become obscured by the growing body of dissent respecting this and that particular aspect of the program. Unless we keep this pattern clear, we shall get lost in the woods of detailed disagreements and lose our way on depression.

I want today to go with you on a swift tour of some of the front-line trenches in this war on depression.

In the strictly domestic phase of this national struggle for recovery, there are four major sections on our economic battle-front. They are:

- (1) The statesman's sector.
- (2) The business man's sector.
- (3) The banker's sector.
- (4) The consumer's sector.

The statesman's sector is that part of the battle-front at which political leadership has had to assume a new responsibility for stimulating modernized economic policies among business men, bankers and industrialists. Governmental intervention in business processes is often inept, but governmental initiative in stimulating business policy is sometimes imperative. This is such a time.

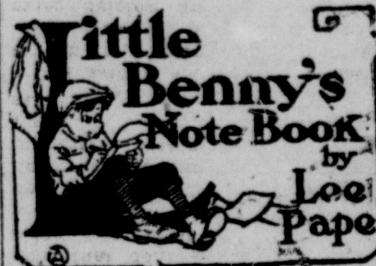

The business man's sector is that part of the battle-front at which business leadership must give the national leadership the utmost of sympathetic and efficient cooperation in raising the price level enough to make business profits again possible and in spreading buying power widely enough through higher wages and shorter hours to make business volume again possible. And the leadership of business must help see to it that the price rise is so managed that it will not offset the advantages coming from a wider spread of buying power.

The banker's sector is that part of the battle-front at which financial leadership must employ creative courage in going the utmost distance that sound judgment will permit in liberalizing credit for every enterprise that stands a good chance of surviving in the new economy of high wages and short hours into which we must move.

The consumer's sector is that part of the battle-front at which public opinion must, without resort to browbeating boycotts, pledge the nation's increased purchasing power to those businesses that cooperate best with the national leadership in the struggle for recovery.

If every American could keep daily in mind this sense of warlike necessity that confronts us and, on his particular sector of the economic battle-front, serve with soldier-like devotion the common cause, we might make shorter work of the depression than will be possible if we decline to enlist in this war until all our differences are ironed out. THE FINE LINE

School is so close to the home that there is danger of their becoming confused as to each other's duties. In these days when the school has had to take over many of the functions of home we must keep in mind the idea that the school serves the community by teaching the children, by pointing out anything that interferes with that teaching, and expecting the community to do the rest.

Suppose the teacher discovers that a child in her room is sick. She thinks he has a fever. She gives him medicine? I say no. Send the child home with word that he needs medical attention and leave the rest to the parents and the physician.

"But if they cannot get a physician?" Then call on the public service hospital and clinics. It is not the function of the teacher to give medical treatment. Children come to school in an undernourished state. Shall the teacher feed them? No. It is her duty to call attention to the condition and ask the community to make arrangements for the feeding of the children. Children ought not to be fed in the classroom. If feeding of school children is necessary, and often it is, there should be rooms provided with dietitians and cooks in attendance.

Money must be raised for the care of the children, for school equipment, for school upkeep and repairs. Shall the teacher undertake the task? No. The teacher makes the report to the community leaders and the burden rests upon their shoulders. It is not wise for teachers to take such responsibilities on their shoulders.

The teacher is a leader in the community. He ought to know what the needs of the children are. He ought to be able to lay their case before the proper authorities briefly and pointedly. He ought to stand ready to help if he is asked for help, but his duty ends when he has laid the case before the community. I say this because teachers are in danger of losing sight of their work, the instruction and guidance of children under the supervision of school authorities and the parents. Today a teacher is more likely to be pouring milk and serving soup than she is to be giving out lessons and recitations.

Don't misunderstand me. If the community asks for the teacher's help she should give it freely, pointing out at the same time that she must choose which work she will do, and upon them the choice must rest. If soup comes before arithmetic lessons and it may, let us understand it so, and free the teacher of responsibility for the arithmetic lessons. You can't prepare for Regents examinations and serve lunch, distribute shoes, sell memberships in the Red or Blue or the Double Cross, any one of which serves a noble cause. The teacher has to choose which noble cause she will serve, under the will of her community, the parents and the taxpayers. It would seem to me that teaching children is the noblest cause a teacher can serve.

True, an emergency exists, but there are more people free for service today than there need to be. Why not call on them for the service in schools and let teachers do the work they are trained to do? In the years that are close upon us the children are going to need this instruction as much as they now need shoes, soup, clothing and tonsil operations. Couldn't the community do more of this and the teachers less? A fine line defines the teachers' duty here, but it does exist. Its observance is important to the children.
